

Democrats Out To Give Battle

For the first time in the history of Newton politics, there is going to be a real two-party contest, come November. The Democrats will place candidates in two of the four seats in the House of Representatives here and there will also be a Democratic candidate for State Senator in the district of which Newton plays the most prominent part.

Unopposed for the Republican nomination for Senator from the Middlesex-Suffolk District which comprises Newton, Ward 22 of Boston and Ward 5 in Cambridge, is Rep. Donald L. Gibbs of 37 Claremont street, Newton.

Seeking the Democratic nomination for the seat are Robert W. Gallagher of 39 Tennyson road, West Newton, and John Melia of Brighton.

In the Fourth Middlesex Representative District, comprising Wards 1, 2, 3, and 7 of this city,

Comes to Central Church Nov. 1st

Last week Central Congregational Church of Newton, Newtonville, held a special meeting to vote on the successor to the Reverend Randolph S. Merrill who retires September 1, 1956, after a twenty-five year pastorate in Central Church. Nearly two hundred members, many back from vacations for the day, voted unanimously to call the Reverend Benjamin R. Andrews, Jr., of the First Church of Christ, Congregational, of Northampton, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews met the members of the Church at an informal reception which preceded the meeting.

REV. B. R. ANDREWS, JR.

Mr. Andrews is thirty-seven years of age, married and has four children. He graduated from Cornell University in 1940 and Yale Divinity School in 1944. He also studied two summers at Union Theological Seminary. He served as the Minister for a year and a half at Fort Trumbull Union Church in Milford, Conn. From 1944 to 1949 he was Chaplain of the Northfield School for Girls in East Northfield, Mass., and a member of the Bible Department there. Since 1949 he has been the Minister of the First Church of Christ, Congregational, in Northampton, Mass.

Mrs. Andrews is also a graduate of Cornell University and while in Northampton has been active in church and community affairs.

Several of Mr. Andrews' extracurricular activities while in Northampton are as follows: President of the Pioneer Valley Council for Weekday Religious Education; Chairman of the Committee on Ministerial Standing of the Hampshire Association; Member of the Mass. Congregational Conference Committee on the Churches and Colleges and on the Ministry; Member of the Board of the United Christian Foundation at the University of Massachusetts and Chairman of its Financial Resources Committee; Chairman of the Northampton Council of Social Agencies and Chairman of two of its study committees; Member of the Executive Committee of the American Friends of the College Covenor, Inc.; Member of the Northampton Ministerial Association and the Northampton Council of Churches, and Chairman of various of its committees.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will take up their work in Central Church on November 1.

The pulpit committee that presented Mr. Andrews to the Church was made up of the following: Mrs. Theodore Clark, Mrs. Stanley Johnson, Mrs. Royall Parkinson, Mrs. Wallace R. Ross, Winslow Auryansen, Peter Donovan, H. Winston Mercer, Walter Phillips, and Robert L. Monroe, Chairman.

New Nation-wide Poll Now Being Taken As A Result Of Stassen's Effort to Dump Nixon for Vice-President

Republican leaders in Massachusetts were forced into an embarrassing silence by Harold E. Stassen's declaration that Governor Christian A. Herter would make a stronger running mate for President Eisenhower than would Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

They are well aware that Stassen's statement holds true as far as this State is concerned and that their own election-day prospects would be far brighter with Herter than with Nixon. Yet, they are fearful of worsening the situation in their own party, if they speak up and say so.

Massachusetts is not the only State which Ike would have a substantially better chance of carrying if Herter rather than Nixon were on the Republican national ticket with him. Nixon's home State of California is another.

Reports from the Far West indicate that the GOP split over Nixon is so great in the Golden State that his renomination as the Republican candidate for Vice President is very likely to cost Mr. Eisenhower California's electoral votes.

It is true that the political picture in California is largely the product of Nixon's feud with Governor Goodwin Knight and that the Massachusetts situation stems principally from the "favorite son" popularity of Governor Herter. It also is a fact that President Eisenhower probably cannot afford to lose either State without coming within the shadow of menacing defeat.

Says Plans Altered On Toll Route

A broad concession to relinquish an interchange location in the Back Bay section of Boston was made Tuesday by the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority to encourage development of the Back Bay Yards of the B. & A. R. R. by the Prudential Insurance Company of America, according to a release issued yesterday (Wednesday) by the Authority.

Further concession was made to the City of Boston and residents near the B. & A. R. R. by agreeing to build a double deck expressway from the Beacon Yards of the B. & A. R. R., near former Braves Field to avoid heavy land takings along the railroad right-of-way.

Fred Smith, vice president of the Prudential Insurance Company, declared himself in favor of eliminating the double-decked highway structure in the Back Bay Yard site of their proposed realty development and suggested that the toll road be brought to ground level.

Chairman William F. Callahan expressed doubts as to the engineering feasibility of attempting to bring the road down to track level, but agreed to have an engineering study made immediately. The chairman asked for a 30-day extension of an option agreement, which expires August 10, between the insurance company and the New York Central R.R.

Whitmore Is Co-chairman In GOP Drive

A concentrated effort to elect a Republican House and Senate, to back up the top team on the Republican ticket, will be waged by a committee headed by Senator C. Henry Glovsky of Beverly and Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., of this city, it has been announced.

Senator Glovsky will direct the campaign for Senate seats and Mayor Whitmore will concentrate on capturing House seats for the Republicans.

The co-chairmen said they are confident the Republican Party will prevail in November, both in this state and the nation.

"It will be important for Governor Whittier to have capable, competent men and women in the Massachusetts House and Senate to assist in the enactment of progressive legislation beneficial to everyone who lives and works in Massachusetts, and to forestall crack-pot obstructionist proposals which could hinder progress," they stated.

Concluding, the co-chairmen said: "We aim to spell out for the voters of Massachusetts why it is to their advantage to back up the top Republican team with Republican Senators and Representatives to help keep Massachusetts ahead."

"Big Splash" Over Toll Road Is On

The mayors of this city and Waltham are locked in a "sea battle" because of a road.

In contention is the East-West toll road extension to downtown Boston.

Proving that both mayors are good sailors, they have now both taken to the boats and although details are lacking, there's no doubt they both had good sailing.

It appears that last week Mayor Whitmore of this city decided he could get a better prospectus on the situation if he surveyed the area from the water so he cruised along the Charles River into Waltham territory. But he didn't tell Mayor Paul V. Shaughnessy of Waltham that he was coming or looking for a route to save Newton property.

The Waltham man contends that Mayor Whitmore's motor launch cruise down the Charles River from Norumbega to Mood's street bridge in Waltham last week, "aroused my suspicions."

Says Loss Would Be A Death Blow

Since rumors leaked out that the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority was contemplating using the Boston & Albany railroad right of way from Riverside to Boston for toll road purposes, Rep. George E. Rawson (R-Newton) has filed protests with three official groups who have the authority to block any such proposal. Those groups to whom Rep. Rawson has protested are the Commissioner of Public Works; the Department of Public Utilities; and, the Interstate Commerce Commission.

In protesting any such step being taken which would abandon railroad service to this city and five other communities to the west of Newton, Rawson states that "experience of two wars showed that trunk line

In Need of Furniture For Units

Local military anti-aircraft units are in need of usable furniture for recreation rooms.

Newton Red Cross has received a request for tables, bookcases, floor lamps, card tables, table radios and similar occasional furniture for use in isolated military establishments.

The army has been activating some anti-aircraft missile and gun establishments to protect the community and individuals in case of emergency need. These men are stationed at sites as a rule that are far removed from recreation facilities, and they have very heavy duty schedules. They are required to be on the alert the average of two nights out of three. The men themselves are unable to provide their own recreation as readily as other servicemen at larger military installations. The basic recreation facilities that the military itself provides often need supplementation to compensate for many lonely hours.

The people of this area are —FURNITURE—

WE SHOW YOU HOW TO GET MORE HORSEPOWER with LESS gas

Horsepower is the measure of the work your car can do.

The maker of your car built it to deliver a rated amount of power. When your car is ailing its first symptom is a net loss in horsepower.

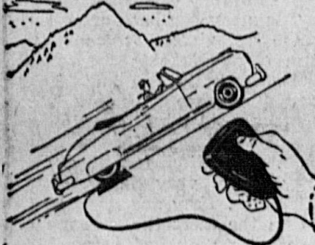

On the Dynamometer you can see this loss... or convince yourself that your car is riding on top of the world!

The Dynamometer is a road.

One minute it's a steep hill... now it's a sharp drop... now a level stretch... a sudden stop... another heavy upward pull.

All this goes on in the safety of our shop. Your car is tested under every condition it would face on a 50 mile trip... under the vigilant eye of a highly trained technician.

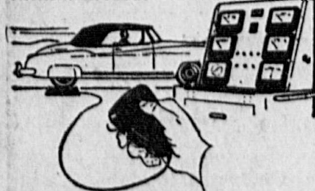

While your car is being tested on our indoor highway, the Dynamometer is measuring horsepower... under actual driving conditions.

When power is down, service work is needed!

The Dynamometer is also measuring road speed... on the button.

If your speedometer and the Dyno gauge fail to agree, adjustment is needed!

Also on the Dynamometer panel are instruments showing engine speed, timing, compression, fuel mixture. If something is wrong, we can spot it on the dime.

Our service work is done with precision accuracy!

Because we have a Dynamometer we can keep your car at the level of power, performance, and fuel economy intended by the manufacturer. We can save you money on every mile you drive.

Speakers on the program were Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.; Philip K. Brown, Chapter Chairman of the Newton Red Cross and Mr. C. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner of the City of Newton. Mayor Whitmore spoke as follows: "Our thanks to the American Red Cross for making this splendid program in Water Safety and swimming instruction possible. Our thanks also go to the instructors, Gil Champagne, Miss McCarthy, Mr. Kincaire and all of the people responsible for the aquatic program carried on here at Crystal Lake." Philip Brown expressed his thanks to all the parents and instructors and also to the children who participated in the program. Mr. Brown said, "Every day during the summer we hear of a drowning somewhere. Occasionally you read of a spectacular life saving but many, many drownings have not taken place because of the wonderful training that has been given in classes similar to the ones held here at Crystal Lake."

C. Evan Johnson welcomed the parents and friends of the children to Newton's Municipal Swimming Beach, in behalf of the Recreation Department. He extended thanks to the Red Cross for the effective work being carried out at Crystal Lake. He informed the parents and friends that 15 Life Guards, and no less than 4, are on duty constantly and are well equipped to do their job.

railroads from the center of the country to the seaboard are the backbone of our national defense."

From a local viewpoint he contends "that the loss of this service would be a death blow to Newton, for there is available no other adequate form of public transportation to replace it."

His complete statement is as follows:

"When the Boston Herald and Traveler first published the report that the Mass. Turnpike Authority intended to take the roadbed of the Boston & Albany Railroad for its route from Riverside to Boston, I immediately filed a protest with the Interstate Commerce Commission. The experience of two wars showed that trunk line railroads from the center of the country to the seaboard are the backbone of our national defense. It is, therefore, not in the public interest that the B&A, as a part of the New York Central, should be discontinued."

"The Toll Road Act of 1952 which created the Turnpike Authority empowered the Commissioner of Public Works to approve or reject any proposed route. I have, therefore, filed with Commissioner Volpe, a written protest against the roadbed of the B&A being thus used. I have asked that before he takes any action, he accord a hearing to my Mayor and the Newton delegation in the General Court."

"The Department of Public Utilities is empowered by law to permit or refuse any discontinuance of railroad service. Therefore, I have filed with it a written protest against any discontinuance. The efficient and reliable commuter service furnished by the B&A over the years is the life-blood of Newton as a fine residential city. This service would have to be discontinued if the Turnpike Authority should use the road bed. The loss of this service would be a death blow to Newton, for there is available no other adequate form of public transportation to replace it. The same fate would befall the other five suburbs to the west of us."

"I hope there will be additional protests from others who are interested in the welfare of Newton."

The quiet operation of your car is no asset. It only makes it easier for you to hear insults.

-- A Plea For Father --

What kind of a vacation is Dad having?

We're used to thinking of summer vacation in terms of the children. School's out and they're making the most of it. We Americans seem to concentrate on making sure that they have the right kind of summer. But what about Father? Outside of chauffeuring the kids to the swimming hole and playing life guard, explaining historical monuments on the motor tour, and cutting wood for the picnic fire, is he having a vacation?

He's a pretty important guy. His summer vacation should be more than just two weeks away from the job. Industrial health experts tell us that his vacation can make or break the year ahead for him. That's why more and more business firms insist on his taking at least two weeks off. And it is true that some men have to be almost pushed out of the office. If he doesn't build up a reservoir of good health now, we may all be in trouble.

Father, the Forgotten Man in too many households, is one of the nation's biggest health problems. Statistics show that there is more serious illness among middle-aged men than among women. Men in their middle years have more tuberculosis than any other group in the population. Yet we know that a healthy, well-nourished person can usually fight TB germs to a standstill. If Father isn't building up his health this summer, isn't eating right, or getting enough sleep, rest, and recreation, the family can resolve to do something about it before the summer is over. One important step is to find out what the words "rest" and "recreation" mean to him. He may not enjoy doing some of the things he feels he "ought to do" for the children. A few adjustments can be made.

Dad may be surprised when his wishes and his health are taken into consideration in the family plans. But don't worry. He'll be able to stand the strain.

However, seeking the Democratic nomination for the two seats are George F. Cahill of 74 Namet road, Chestnut Hill, and Joseph L. Walsh of 39 Prairie avenue, Auburndale.

Edward J. McCormack Jr. of Dorchester, Democratic candidate for attorney general.

Altered—

Describing the proposed Boston Extension of the Massachusetts Turnpike, Chairman Callahan said that the tentative plans call for a three laned divided roadway from Route 128, along the right-of-way of the main line of the B. & A. R. R., through to the Beacon Park railroad yards in Allston. From this point there would be a roadway at the grade of the railroad tracks with a second roadway overhead. This double-decked structure would be carried to the South Station. This concession, however, fails to remove Newton's objections to elimination of the railroad for toll road use.

Chairman Callahan said that no special part of Boston should be favored for the toll road terminal. Preliminary reports from the traffic survey of the Greater Boston traffic demands indicate that from 60,000 to 70,000 drivers want to travel into or out of Boston daily. To handle this great volume of traffic the toll road has to be tied into the Boston Central Artery. They cannot be marooned in a remote area outside the town section because that is not where they want to go and if left at this distant point they would be certainly marooned in the resultant traffic congestion.

"Downtown business and retail merchants favored the Boston Central Artery because they wanted traffic to come within reasonable limits of their various enterprises. Traffic from the South Shore will connect with the Central Artery via Route 3; North Shore traffic is connected by means of the tunnel and Mystic River Bridge. New links are planned for the Medford-Somerville residents. Cambridge has Storrow drive and Memorial drive as adequate connecting roads with downtown Boston. However, the whole western section of Greater Boston is practically isolated by traffic congestion. Growing volumes are rapidly bringing the condition to an acute stage, Chairman Callahan explained.

Better Probation Standards Is Subject of Discussion

"Better Probation Standards" was the subject discussed at a meeting by the Massachusetts League of Women Voters at a Joy street, Boston.

Under discussion were the needs, and means for attaining a good probation service. According to the Wessell report, the full development of adequate probation service in all courts, is a sound economic investment which would be of benefit to the taxpayer.

Among the recommendations included in the report presented by Dr. Nils Wessell, president of Tufts, to the governor are the following:

1. Elimination of the Board of Probation and establishment of the office of Commissioner of Probation with the Commissioner to be appointed for a term of no less than six years. The Commissioner should be given clearly defined authority to: (a) establish standards for probation work throughout the Commonwealth; (b) provide consultation service to all probation departments; (c) qualify or disqualify applicants for positions as probation officers prior to appointment of probation officers by judges, with power of appointment remaining in the hands of the judiciary; (d) conduct training programs for probation personnel; (e) conduct research relating to offenders which would be helpful to the courts in dealing with the crime and delinquency problem and participate with the Department of Correction and the Parole Board in joint research studies.

2. With power to qualify or disqualify candidates for probation positions vested in the Commissioner of Probation, there should be provision for appeal from his decision to a small committee consisting of the Chief Justice of the Superior Court, the Chairman of the Administrative Committee of the District Court and the Chief Justice of the Boston Municipal Court and two outstanding laymen, appointed by the Governor. Such a committee could also be of service in advising with the Commissioner on probation matters.

3. Deputy commissioners and assistants should be provided in

International Seminar Students Given Tea Here

Three women students attending the Harvard International Seminar were entertained at an informal tea given by Mrs. Seymour S. Getter of 1 Cobb Place, Waban. Mrs. Fe Rodriguez-Arcinas of Manila, the Philippines teaches sociology at the Philippine state university, the University of the Philippines. An attorney-at-law, Mrs. Al Kume is one of the four students from Japan. Djakarta, Indonesia is the home of Mrs. Herawati Diah, where she is editor of the Indonesian Observer.

The guests of honor showed interest in all phases of American life, particularly those in which women took a prominent part. Mrs. Getter, the president of the Newton League of Women Voters answered many questions about the activities of the League.

This is the second visit to Newton by representatives of the Harvard International Seminar. They are part of a group of 45 students from 23 countries who were selected by competition in their native lands. Competition for the scholarships was very keen for example, the 4 Japanese delegates were chosen from 150 applicants.

The wife of an insurance broker, Mrs. Getter is chairman of the Social Guide Committee of the PTSA of Newton High School, where their daughter Helene is a Junior. Assisting Mrs. Getter were Mrs. James Zimmer and Mrs. Harvey Karp.

It's A Serious Matter

The latest toll road release issued yesterday by the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority gives little solace or consideration to the objections raised by this city.

Such concessions as have been made, according to this release, are all for the benefit of Boston and ignores completely the wishes of commuters using railroad service to and from Boston, not only in Newton but to other communities to the west of this city.

Unless the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority is playing guessing games, or unless official action by Newton can prevent it, the right of way of the Boston & Albany railroad appears destined to be used for toll road purposes.

Frankly, the whole approach to the eastern terminus of this toll road appears to be a "Johnny Come Lately." To the average layman, it is difficult to understand why the approaches to and from Boston weren't planned first and the toll road built later. It is like putting the cart before the horse and to the layman, at least, it just doesn't make sense.

And the question might also be well advanced as to why the terminus of the toll road should be brought into the heart of Boston. Of course it is evident that by doing just that, more revenue is hoped to be derived for the coffers of the Turnpike Authority, forcing as it will, many motorists to pay a token from Boston to say Newton, just for the privilege of getting to and from work via automobile, whereas now the ride is gratis, thanks to the roadways built with the motorists' own money in the form of the gasoline tax.

But up to now, at least, the Authority appears determined to end the toll road in the heart of Boston, bringing on further congestion to that already overburdened community and making the situation far worse than it is now, which to say the least, is deplorable. But why bring the terminus directly into the heart of Boston and a congested area anyway. The only answer is to obtain more revenue for the toll road. No other logical answer appears apparent. Does anyone expect that the majority of persons who will use the toll road for long distance travel desire to come directly into Boston. Of course not. Many who will use this road for speed and convenience, on reaching Route 128 in Weston will branch out to the north and south and even many who do not, will do so in order to circumvent the traffic congestion in Boston.

But all is not yet lost for commuters here and in other communities. We like the approach to the matter which Representative George Rawson of this city has already taken. By filing protests with three different legal authorities having some jurisdiction over the final phase of the toll road route from Weston to Boston, he has thrown up legal obstacles which yet may save the Boston & Albany Railroad for the use of commuters now using this facility for their daily means of travel to and from business.

Yet there is no denying the fact that there is going to be a need yet for officials of Newton and other communities involved to exert their protest to such a degree that the eastern end of the toll road will circumvent this city and permit the continued operation of the Boston & Albany railroad.

If this is not done, and if success in the protest is not to prevail, then the whole complex of this community, both business and residential is bound to change and hardly for the better. The crux of the whole agitation is that at the moment Newton is on the spot and it is going to take some powerful arguing to save the city from probably disastrous results if the Boston & Albany roadbed is to be turned into a toll road.

We still believe, along with many others, that the eastern terminus of the toll road might well be extended from the Weston line along the Charles River route and that such a route would prove far more advantageous to this city than would the use of the railroad right of way for toll road. This may seem a narrow viewpoint of approach to the problem which now exists, wholly of the Turnpike Authority's own making, but in this instance Newton has every right to take this viewpoint.

Which well might again be asked: "Why wasn't the toll road planned in the first place out from the city of Boston rather than in to it?" Had it been done, all this agitation and confusion might never have resulted.

Political Overtones

Even though the political climate in California and Massachusetts is colored by local factors and personalities, it unquestionably also is true that there is a certain undercurrent of hostility toward Nixon, particularly on the part of Democrats and Independents, that is general in nature and is not confined to any State. Mr. Eisenhower must draw the votes of some of those Independents and Democrats if he is to gain reelection. He can't win on Republican votes alone.

Political experts are unable to pinpoint the reason for the public antipathy to Nixon or explain from what it springs, but they know that it exists. They knew that before Stassen launched his surprise boom for Herter, and they recognized that it was the most formidable obstacle confronting President Eisenhower in his bid for reelection.

That anti-Nixon feeling, of course, becomes highly important because of the state of Mr. Eisenhower's health and the uncertainty as to whether he can withstand for another four years the strain and the stress of the most exacting job in the world.

A great many persons who personally like Ike will not cast their votes for him if they feel that by doing so they will be making it possible for Nixon to become President at some time in the future.

That is precisely why Stassen is trying to dump Nixon in favor of Herter.

Despite all the attacks and the personal abuse directed at Stassen since he launched his one-man campaign to have Herter nominated as the Republican candidate for Vice President instead of Nixon, there has been no challenge as to the accuracy of his statement that an Eisenhower-Herter ticket would be 6 percent stronger than an Eisenhower-Nixon ticket.

Nor has any reliable authority disputed his claim that Nixon as the nominee for Vice President would be a political liability and a deadweight around President Eisenhower's neck and hamper Republican chances generally.

The big issue is whether that statement is false or true. Nixon's defenders and Stassen's assailants have carefully avoided that question in all the tumult and the shouting.

Stassen has been accused of trying to promote himself into the Presidency or the Vice Presidency, although he candidly stated that he, like Nixon, would be a liability to his party and its national ticket.

He has renounced all claim to the Presidential or Vice Presidential nomination now and forever in the future, and if that is his strategy for advancing his own political ambitions, it certainly is a pretty devious and subtle way of doing it.

When Stassen exploded his bombshell on Monday of last week and urged the nomination of Herter for Vice President, he said that he did so on the basis of the results of a survey that had been made to ascertain voter sentiment.

A new nation-wide poll is now being made by a professional polling organization. What it finds will be disclosed within a few days. It is very likely that it will disclose what almost every sound political expert believes to be the fact, namely that Nixon is a serious liability, just as Stassen said he was.

If it does show that to be the case, will Chairman Hall brush it off and try to beat it down with loud talk and extraneous charges as he did in the instance of Stassen's first report? Will Nixon's backers still insist that their man be nominated for the Vice Presidency? Will a sizeable group of GOP leaders bury their heads in the political sands like so many ostriches? And will President Eisenhower insist on Nixon as his running mate rather than hurt the feelings of the Californian?

If the answer proves to be "Yes" to all those questions, then the GOP will be inviting disaster next November, and even President Eisenhower's great personal popularity may be unable to prevent it, for Ike's political shoulders may not be broad enough any longer to carry all the burdens that will be loaded onto them without staggering under their weight.

This writer does not see how the Republican party can possibly afford to ignore the results of the poll now being made, whatever they reveal.

Possibly they will show that Stassen is wrong and that Nixon's presence on the ticket will help President Eisenhower to gain reelection rather than hinder him from doing so, although we doubt that any accurate survey could come up with any such finding.

Should that prove to be the case, then Nixon's renomination would be a certainty. So, too, in all probability, would be Stassen's early departure from the President's official family.

But if the poll discloses that Nixon is a liability, would cost Ike millions of votes and drag GOP Congressmen down to defeat, it seems almost inevitable that President Eisenhower would summon him in and inform him that he would have to stand aside.

Stassen will have performed a great service for the Republican party, in the opinion of this onlooker, if he achieves his objective and paves the way for the nomination of Governor Herter as the Vice Presidential candidate.

He will have done it great harm, possibly irreparable damage, if Nixon rides out the political storm, is renominated next month at San Francisco and becomes the target for the heaviest Democratic guns.

The results of the new poll will command greater attention and be given wider publicity than any political survey of its kind ever made. Its impact is likely to be so strong that something is almost certain to give under its weight.

What this onlooker can't quite understand, meanwhile, is why so many Republican politicians, who know there is a strong basis of truth for Stassen's statements, have leaped to Nixon's defense. That is the most puzzling aspect to the entire situation.

We still believe Governor Herter is a good short-end bet to wind up as the Republican nominee for Vice President.

Herter, incidentally, has demonstrated why he is Presidential and Vice Presidential timber by the manner in which he has conducted himself during the raging dispute over Stassen's claim that he would be a stronger running mate for Ike than would Nixon.

His admirers would have touched off a real drive in support of Stassen's boomlet, had he allowed them to do so. Instead, he clamped down, permitted no activity in his own behalf, agreed to place Nixon's name in nomination and sat back calmly to await developments.

Those developments should be forthcoming pretty soon.

It is gradually becoming apparent that the Republican party in Massachusetts is very likely to miss the strong, firm hand of Elmer C. Nelson in the coming campaign.

Nelson at times may have had some of the mannerisms of a bull in a political china shop, but as a field general in a hard-hitting campaign he had few equals.

Feuds and fights are developing within the Republican party which he might have been able to prevent. Perhaps he wouldn't have been able to cope with them, but he would have made quite an effort in the process of trying.

Kefauver Now Slated for Vice President

It is highly improbable that Senator Estes Kefauver would have bowed out of the Democratic Presidential race and announced his support of Adlai Stevenson, if he did not have assurances from Adlai that he would be given the Vice Presidential nomination.

Dr. Brownville Guest Preacher Here This Month

"The United Presbyterian Church at the corner of Park and Vernon streets, Newton, welcomes back Dr. Gordon C. Brownville for the month of August as our guest preacher for the third consecutive year. Dr. Brownville needs no introduction to New England as he served as pastor of the Tremont Temple Baptist Church for over 10 years and has made many friends during his ministry.

He is now pastor of the Main Street Baptist Church in Binghamton, New York.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH, NEWTONVILLE

The fact that all things are possible to God will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Spirit" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections to be read from the King James Version of the Bible will include Paul's statement to the Philippians (4:13): "I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (182:30-4): "To admit that sickness is a condition over which God has no control, is to presuppose that omnipotent power is powerless on some occasions. The law of Christ, or Truth, makes all things possible to Spirit; but the so-called laws of matter would render Spirit of no avail, and demand obedience to materialistic codes, thus departing from the basis of one God, one lawmaker."

That is the only conclusion realistic political observers can draw from the unexpected move by Kefauver. If their judgment is correct, it means that the door has been closed on the Vice Presidential aspirations of Senator John F. Kennedy.

After the exchanges between Stevenson and Kefauver while they were campaigning in Florida and California, this must convince most people that anything is possible in politics.

While Governor Averell Harriman is stoutly claiming that Kefauver's retirement from the field improves his prospects, the fact is that it probably means the nomination of Stevenson on the second ballot.

Harriman's chances seemingly rested on the ability of the anti-Stevenson bloc to deadlock the convention for three or four ballots. That no longer seems possible with Kefauver out of the fight.

Stevenson may have paid a high price for Kefauver's withdrawal, if he agreed to make the Tennessee Senator his Vice Presidential running mate. There is no question but that a Stevenson-Kefauver ticket would not be nearly as strong as a Stevenson-Kennedy slate. Stevenson could be sacrificing support in November to win an easy convention victory in August.

Originally it appeared that the Republican convention would be cut and dried and that the Democratic conclave would be a wide-open battle. Now it appears that the Democratic convention may be cut and dried and that the Republicans may be heading into a stiff fight for the Vice Presidential nomination.

Two developments of consequence occurred this week on the State's political front. Former Attorney General Francis E. Kelley announced that he would not be a candidate for Governor, and Executive Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody served notice that he will be in the race for the Democratic endorsement for Attorney General.

If former State Treasurer Foster Furcolo's top backers can now get Thomas H. Buckley out of the gubernatorial field, Furcolo would be unopposed in the September primary. Buckley so far has insisted that he has gone too far to quit the race.

Peabody's announcement means that the three major Democratic candidates for Attorney General who battled it out at the Worcester convention—Peabody, Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., and Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg—will clash in another test of strength, this time with the Democratic voters.

RANDOM CLIPPINGS

Walter Rivers of Jacksonville, Fla., figured it was only a matter of time before a diseased magnolia tree in his yard would fall onto his house. In order to prevent the accident he hired a crane to uproot and haul away the tree. So what happened? So the crane slipped and sent the tree crashing onto his dwelling, while Walter looked on with mingled despair and frustration.

Frank A. Doane petitioned the Court of Common Pleas in Cleveland to order his wife not to bowl more than one night a week. He complained to the court that his spouse considers herself too expert to bowl with him and that she spends four nights a week in the alleys, driven on by "the unreasonable obsession" that she will be the national women's champion some day. What we think Mr. Doane should do is learn to bowl.

Taken into custody by police after they found stolen goods in his Van Nuys, Cal., home, Robert L. Hunter, 20, told the officers: "I was trying to prove to my father-in-law that I could support his daughter as well as he could."

Accident Law Change Noted

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King, chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, officially calls public attention to the change in the law relative to the reporting of accidents to the Registry of Motor Vehicles.

Section 26 of Chapter 90 as amended by Chapter 225, Acts of 1956, now reads:

"Every person operating a motor vehicle which is in any manner involved in an accident in which any person is killed or injured therein, or in which there is damage in excess of two hundred dollars to any one vehicle or other property, shall forthwith report in writing to the registrar on a form approved by him. The registrar may revoke or suspend the license of any person violating this section."

BEHIND THE TV SCREEN

BY LARRY WITTE

Ingrid Bergman, who is currently making a film in London titled "Anastasia," will come to the United States this fall and will appear on Ed Sullivan's Show on CBS-TV in October or November. The Swedish born actress has been out of the United States for the past eight years and is now the wife of Italian movie director Roberto Rossellini. . . . Rough skiing is in store for private detective Mike Barnett (played by Frank Lovejoy) in a case involving a matrimonial triangle, on "Man Against Crime" Sunday, July 29, on NBC-TV. In a Swiss Alps setting, Mike is hired to keep a jealous husband from killing his wife's suitor, but in a strange development he comes to the husband's rescue. . . . Freeman Gosden and Charles Correll-Amos 'n' Andy—observe a milestone in their fabulous radio careers on Friday, Aug. 10. On that day they will celebrate the 500th broadcast of their CBS Radio "Amos 'n' Andy Music Hall" series. . . . "Twenty-One," a new quiz program on which contestants can win an unlimited amount of money, will start Sept. 12 on NBC-TV. Jack Barry, who used to headline the "Big Surprise" quizzer, will handle the emcee chores on this show.

LOOK-LISTEN: Roy Rogers is captured by a gang of outlaws in "Huntin' for Trouble" on NBC-TV's Roy Rogers Show Sunday, July 29. The desperadoes try to use Roy as a shield to help them escape the law, but they run into a trap set by Pat Brady and Dale Evans, and fight a gun battle with the sheriff's posse.

Marion Marlowe will represent the TV singers division of the entertainment committee being formed to welcome Italy's famed Carabini Band of Rome. All facets of show business will be included in the committee. The musical aggregation, part of the Italian Army, is due here for a national tour Oct. 3.

Hollywood star Bill Lundigan, host of the CBS-TV show "Climax," will be in N. Y. Sat., Aug. 4, for the First Marine Division Association's reunion at the Sheraton Hotel. He's slated to emcee the entertainment phase of the get-together. "Wire Service," featuring George Brent, Dane Clark and a third star to be named, has been signed by a cigger company to be heard each Thursday night on the ABC-TV network starting Oct. 4.

A new half-hour dramatic program featuring stories by many of the leading women writers of the day, and two popular serial dramas, will spearhead NBC Radio's new look on weekday afternoons beginning Monday, July 30. David Wayne will be host and narrator of "Five Star Matinee."

SIGHTS & SOUNDS: Sixteen of the nation's top newsmen provide the corps or reporters for the new "Press Conference" program which is now heard on Wednesday nights over the Mutual network (show is telecast on NBC-TV). Show usually originates in Washington and Martha Rountree acts as "press secretary." . . . Emmett Kelly will be master clown when Ed Sullivan presents his "All Circus Show" on CBS-TV, Sunday, July 29. . . . Gerald McBoing-Boing, the cartoon character who doesn't speak words, will be featured in a new half-hour cartoon series debuting on the CBS-TV network in the fall.

Omnibus has won the Poor Richard's 350th Anniversary Almanac Medal—its 44th major award. The Billboard National Poll was its 43rd. . . . Playhouse 99, to debut on CBS-TV in the fall, has acquired the rights to Rod Serling's new and powerful fight story, "Requiem For a Heavyweight." Story concerns today's fight: game and dramatizes the life of a mismanaged, has-been fighter and the unsympathetic tactics of his money-eater manager.

Hardy Burt, producer-host for Mutual's "State of a Nation" series, literally will soon have the state of his own "nation" to ponder. Burt has acquired one-sixth ownership of the 500-square mile island of Tiburon, near Mexico's state of Sonora in the Gulf of California. To permit unimpeded development of the island as a tourist mecca, the federal Mexican government is granting the owners extra-legal powers to set up their own police, customs, immigration and local laws to suit the particular needs of Tiburon—making a quasi-nation out of a heretofore Indian and wild-life habitat.

RADIO-TV NEWSREEL: Comedian Jack Benny, who in his first TV appearance in England proved that essentially the American and British sense of humor is the same by attracting a record-breaking audience of more than 20 million viewers, left London last week for Venice, Italy, where he'll continue the shooting of television films for American audiences. The comedian has already completed telefilms in Paris and London and plans now to use Venice and Rome as backgrounds for his CBS-TV shows.

Blind writer Hector Chevigny, in an interview on CBS Radio's "This is Kathy Godfrey" said that life to a sightless man was like one continuous radio program which was not well written. "It is not that there is too much dialogue; it just could be better written," said Mr. Chevigny, writer of CBS Radio's "Second Mrs. Burton," as well as author of five books and 30 short stories and articles.

Motorists Must Report Accident Damage of $200

Registrar of Motor Vehicles, Rudolph F. King, chairman of the Massachusetts Highway Safety Committee, officially calls public attention to the change in the law relative to the reporting of accidents to the Registry of Motor Vehicles. Section 26 of Chapter 90 as amended by Chapter 225, Acts of 1956, now reads:

"Every person operating a motor vehicle which is in any manner involved in an accident in which any person is killed or injured therein, or in which there is damage in excess of two hundred dollars to any one vehicle or other property, shall forthwith report in writing to the registrar on a form approved by him. The registrar may revoke or suspend the license of any person violating this section."

The modern auto does just about everything but think. The same can be said for the modern driver.

Don't Forget Fire When Away

Many people when they go away on a vacation to a summer resort to relax forget that fire does not take a rest. It is in many such places that an appalling loss of life and property less occurs. The construction of many of these "summer homes" are light and of materials that burn exceedingly fast once they start. The fire fighting facilities in some communities are very limited, they take longer to respond and are hampered by lack of available water supplies. This means that rather than relaxing our code of safety habits, we should see that they are more strictly enforced if we want to enjoy a fire-safe vacation.

To help make your vacation a safe one here are a few items to check over at your selected community.

First, learn and post the telephone number of the fire department near the telephone. If they have a fire alarm system, learn the location of the nearest fire alarm box.

Second, check the chimneys, flues, and stoves to be sure that they are in safe operating condition. The chimney should be free of any cracks that will allow sparks or smoke to seep through. Any doubtful cracks should be cemented over. The flues should be in good condition free of rust holes and fit tightly into all connections. The stove should be well constructed, far enough from all combustibles so the heat will not cause a fire. NEVER use kerosene or any similar products to start a fire in any type of stove.

Third, when a fuse blows out, replace it with the correct size, usually 15 amps, check the circuit to see if there is a reason for the blow out and correct it. Do not overload the circuits by using appliances that require large amounts of current.

Fourth, never use gasoline, benzene, or naphtha for home dry cleaning. Under any conditions, home dry cleaning is a dangerous practice and should be discouraged.

Fifth, don't strike matches in closets or storage spaces, use a flashlight or have an electric light installed. Have ashtrays handy and place them away from curtains. Extinguish matches and "smokes" completely. . . . and DON'T SMOKE IN BED. Never empty ashtrays into wastebaskets. Always place matches out of the reach of children and in a metal covered container away from stove, stoves, pipes or any place where there is a chance of them becoming overheated.

Sixth, burn rubbish and papers at a safe distance from all of the buildings and so that the sparks will not set the woods on fire. Use a metal incinerator whenever possible.

If, when you are cooking and some fat gets on fire, do not throw water on it as that tends to spread it. Use baking soda, salt or a metal cover to smother the flames.

Should you use gas and you detect its odor, open the doors and windows and do not allow anyone to light a match or candle. Look for the leak with an electric flashlight. Better still, shut off the gas at the source or at the tanks and call a repairman.

Take time to do things correctly so that you can enjoy your vacation in safety this year.

OUR "MARILYN MONROE" ROOF

One of the more frequent questions customers have been asking about Stop & Shop's new Supermarket on Route 9 in Newton, at the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center, concerns the unusual shape of the building. If you have visited this new palace of foods or passed by, you couldn't help but see the gently curved roof that crowns the store. Why curved, the people ask. The answer is simple and very obvious the moment you walk into the store. The curved roof gives a feeling of spaciousness and airiness you have never experienced in a supermarket. The high roof just makes the whole market brighter and lighter — and we know from what people tell us — a more pleasant place to shop.

Actually, this curved type of roof is not less expensive to build and is not an economy move to cut building expenses as some might suspect. But we feel that the uncrowded spaciousness adds to shopping enjoyment. Why not drop in and experience this feeling for yourself.

TELE-VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Here's how smart TV producers grab a chance when they get it. The Screen Director's Playhouse wanted to do a story about the builders of the Hudson River tunnel, but were stumped with how to do it. Then freeway construction in Los Angeles ran into a tunnel project — so the TV cameras went into action. William Bendix takes a breather from his life of Riley role to portray a New York sandhog in this story, "High Air."

Bob Cummings, who is known variously as My Hero and as photographer Bob Collins from his two successful TV series, is sporting a spunking new Beechcraft airplane these days. The flying palace cost him a neat $137,000. Bob and his wife, Mary, put a golden rivet in the plane but can't find it now. A painter covered it up.

Red Skelton is taking a lesson from Jack Benny's present campaign to film several shows in Europe. The redhead will do three or four of his own programs abroad. . . . Everybody's getting into this European act with even Phil Silvers scheduled for overseas duty as Sgt. Bilko.

It's just about convention time — so now's the right time to see us about that new, big screen TV set so you can enjoy all the political fireworks. We have a huge selection of models, RCA Victor, Sylvania, GE-Hotpoint and many others, at

Motor Company Official Offers 21-Points To Check in Used Car Deal

An estimated 12 to 15 million people every year buy a used car but very few of them really know how to shop properly for the car they want and need. This was pointed out here this week by S. P. Hutchins, Dodge used vehicle manager, who presented 21 rules to guide prospective used car shoppers.

Hutchins pointed out that customers are often at fault by shopping "price" rather than quality. He pointed out that no two used cars are exactly alike and purchasers who look for price alone too often find that first costs are not "the best deal," as repairs and maintenance can sometimes be costly. A new car dealer who sells new cars has more facilities, trained personnel, and equipment to condition his used cars. When properly reconditioned, these cars give a better value to the purchaser. Hutchins said new car dealers generally keep only their better trade-ins for retail sale, preferring to sell outright to wholesalers those units not suitable for resale. These remaining "first choice" cars naturally represent the best value. Such dealers frequently offer customers a written warranty which assures the customer of the dealer's confidence in the product he is offering.

Hutchins added that too few customers take a thorough demonstration ride when selecting their purchase. This is the buyer's opportunity to point out the obvious items which should be corrected before delivery.

To point up some of the things a customer should consider, Hutchins sets forth "21 Rules for Buying" as follows:

1. Oil pressure: should be in the mid-range on the indicator and hold steady under acceleration.
2. Tire wear: Check both the outside and inside outer casings for cuts and undue wear. Tread patterns should be even across the tire, indicating proper wheel alignment.
3. Upholstery and general appearance: interior should not be unduly soiled or torn. Seat covers may be an indication of the previous owner's care and pride but can also hide bad rips and stains.
4. Brakes: should have a firm pressure and be well up from the floor.

5. Steering: car should travel straight ahead without weave or sway.
6. Clutch travel: in a standard transmission type car, clutch should engage in gear smoothly with clutch approximately half-way out. If an automatic transmission, performance should be smooth and quiet.
7. Engine starting: should start quickly and easily when engine is cold. When temperature gauge shows warm, car should start more quickly.
8. Windows: check all windows for operation and discoloration.
9. Radio: play radio on at least two stations.
10. Foot pedal pads: should not be unduly worn. Floor mats should be in reasonable condition.
11. Heater and defroster: don't fail to check operation, even in summer.
12. Amp-meter gauge: should indicate no more than three-quarter charge when driving and should discharge only slightly at engine idle.
13. Oil filter: check to see if car has replacement type filter. If so, this can save the owner money.
14. Lights: check lights in park, dim and driving ranges. Also check stop lights and tail lights for operation.
15. Rust: very extensive rust will reduce pride of ownership, and can cost you money.
16. Oil: pull oil stick and check for clear oil. Presence of water bubbles in oil sample indicates probability of big repair bills in the near future.
17. Shock absorbers: test by driving over reasonably rough road. Clanking noises accompany unsound shock absorbers.
18. Engine compartment: lift hood and check for unusual amount of dirt, grime or caked oil residue.
19. Trunk: open trunk for appearance check and examine the spare tire for cuts and breaks.

Competition, Not Government Control, Need of Railroad

"Competition, not government control, should be the chief regulator of transportation rates and cost," Clifford A. Somerville of Melrose, and editor of the Boston & Maine Railroad Magazine, told the Newton Rotary Club at its meeting at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Speaking under the auspices of the Railroad Community Committee of Greater Boston, Somerville said that although transportation has undergone a conspicuous revolution during the past 35 years, the government has kept the same regulatory restrictions that existed before World War I.

"Government regulation of transportation" the speaker said, "was established many years ago when the railroads held a monopoly in the field. Today, railroads handle only about half the intercity freight traffic and face terrific competition from trucks, airlines, barges and pipelines."

"Yet the railroads are more intensively regulated now than they were then."

He said all railroad traffic is under government control while only about 35 per cent of high way freight traffic and about 12 per cent of inland water traffic is regulated.

The President's Cabinet Committee on Transport Policy and Organization charged, in its recently issued report, that the government has consistently clung to its belief in a railroad monopoly despite the obvious competition that has entered the transportation field, Somerville said.

The Cabinet found that this neglect had brought about numerous inequities among the different transportation agencies, to the ultimate expense of shippers and consumers.

Somerville cited the Committee's findings that inflexible rate structures have often caused shippers to choose modes of transportation which are, in the long run, more expensive and less efficient than other available means.

This particular problem has always been a major one to the railroads, Somerville said, because the railroads don't have the right to set their own rates.

He said the railroads sometimes have to set higher rates than they would like to have in order to maintain losing operations that the government requires them to keep going.

"Add to this our frequent inability to increase our rates when we have an increase in our costs," Somerville said, "and you begin to create a distorted picture of transportation economics."

"Throw in subsidies to most of our competitors, and the picture gets even more distorted," he continued.

These cost distortions cause a wasteful diversion of traffic among the various transportation agencies which is as harmful to the public as it is to the railroads, Somerville contended.

The Cabinet Committee, he said, recommends what the railroads and many truckmen have long urged, greater freedom to compete.

"We feel that competition should determine what rates we can set and that government's influence should not extend beyond protection against unfair discrimination," Somerville said.

"If we can achieve that standard, the public, as well as all transportation agencies, will benefit."

"Highway Hypnosis" Named No. One Highway Killer

It's the rear end collisions that do most of the damage on today's high speed turnpikes. The reason, acute overexposure of monotony.

Monotony, or just plain boredom, is a real killer according to the Institute for Safer Living of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Company. A large share of mishaps occurring on expressways, especially those in the fatal category can now be chalked up to this cause.

The monotony arises from driving mile after mile at sustained speeds with little or nothing to occupy the driver's attention. Then something happens that causes the car ahead to stop or swerve suddenly, and following drivers are awakened from their dream state by a rending crash. Or, more tragically, they may never awaken at all. Sometimes it is a chain reaction that may extend for a mile or more along the turnpike, and a number of cars become involved in the pile-up.

Late model cars do not improve the situation says the Institute. They operate largely by "automation", leaving the driver little more to do than keep a light pressure on the power steering.

The warm weather driving season has arrived. More families than ever before will be planning auto trips. Here are some suggestions for those who will be traveling the nation's modern thoroughways this year:

Double check your car before starting a throughway drive. Tires should be checked for wear and inflated to the recommended pressure. Brakes should be functioning perfectly, and windshield, windows and headlamps should be mirror clean. Adjust the rear-view mirror for maximum visibility. Get an early or off rush-hour start if you can, thus avoiding the heaviest traffic.

Sightseeing or scenery gazing is strictly for the birds. Usually, your only reason for being on a throughway is to reach your destination; safely, that is. Keep moving, and at a pace in keeping with the general traffic flow. Watch that speedometer, however. It will creep beyond a safe speed limit without your realizing it.

Flick your eyes at the rear-view mirror every few seconds. You must keep up with what is going on behind. Do not deviate from a straight line or into another lane without a double check on following traffic, then always give the proper signal. Never forget that blind spot off your left rear fender.

Keep a frequent check on your instrument panel, with special attention to motor temperature, oil pressure, and of course the fuel gauge. The latter recedes toward empty at a fantastic rate during higher speeds. Avoid a trouble spot by maintaining recommended oil level and never letting the gas gauge drop much below the half-full mark.

Never "camp" too close to the car ahead. Turnpike authorities recommend a minimum of six car lengths between vehicles under nearly all conditions; more is often necessary depending upon speed and weather conditions. Never, under any circumstances, come to a full stop in a moving traffic lane if it can be avoided. Drivers behind may be under the spell of highway hypnosis. Signal properly when you intend to stop, then pull off on the apron at gradually slackened speed. Police authorities recommend that stranded motorists raise the hood of the car or tie a white cloth to the left side as a distress signal. Do not leave the car to seek help. Patrolmen pass by at frequent intervals and will come to your assistance.

Last but not least, pull off and take a few minutes' coffee break during each hour's travel, the break in this case meaning from coffee to smelling salts, a cat nap, or a stretch and walk around the car. In this way you can even catch up with sightseeing prohibited while in motion.

Never attempt to drive on a throughway in an upset emotional state, and do remember that your mind and reflexes dull quickly under the spell-binding monotony of unreeling ribbons of concrete. Alertness is your best throughway insurance.

Home-owners Warned to Beware Swindles of "Suede-Shoe Boys"

Parkway home-owners about to embark on a summer program of home repairs and improvements had best beware a new species of racketeer now lurking in many American communities.

A recent article in "The Saturday Evening Post" has exposed the "suede-shoe boys", a bunch of fly-by-night operators who make the old-time bunko artists look like amiable amateurs.

These vultures, the article warns, are gouging naive victims throughout the country in every branch of home repairs—electrical, heating and plumbing installations, painting, roofing, siding, storm windows and light construction.

Victor H. Nyborg, president of the Association of Better Business Bureaus, has stated that the home-improvement gyps have cheated the public out of more than $500,000,000 annually in the last few years. They may make an even more staggering haul in 1956 by latching onto Operation Home Improvement, the biggest peacetime promotion ever sponsored jointly by industry and the Federal Government.

Aimed at sprucing up American communities and sustaining property values, Operation Home Improvement, if the swindlers start muscling in, is doomed to become a national fiasco, the article points out.

While the vast majority—probably 99 per cent—of contractors and dealers are ethical craftsmen, the chislers endanger the entire project.

Unless homeowners are on guard against such confidence games as the model-house scheme, bait-switch advertising, the tear-down-furnace dodge, scare sales talks stressing the danger of fire, fake contracts and other common frauds, the suede-shoe boys, many of whom may be backed by criminal syndicates, can walk off with all the profits.

In the model-house scheme, the innocent homeowner is approached by the glib and phony "executive" of a spurious manufacturing company. He is told that the company is so impressed with his little home that it has been selected to introduce, for instance, a new plastic siding, guaranteed against cracking and discoloration, and all at a very, very special price.

When the homeowner claims the "special price" is too expensive for his pocketbook, the swindler confides he is so eager to use the house as a model that he will make a deal. He will pay, let us say, fifty dollars for every prospect the owner refers to the company.

The owner, of course, never sees a red cent after he signs up for an outrageously overpriced and underdone job, and he is stuck for the full bill.

In the bait-switch advertising gimmick, a salesman responds to the innocent homeowners inquiry on, for instance, such a popular item as a storm window, which has been grossly underpriced in advertising.

The pitchman, a psychologist to the core, artfully switches the customer off to a much more expensive product by plugging its superior qualities, and then splits the difference between the advertised price and the switch price down the middle with the promoter.

With the approach of cold weather, the suede-shoe boys bring out the tear-down-furnace racket, a skin game that can cost the unsuspecting homeowner a year's savings.

Posing as a city inspector, the gyp calls on the homeowner to make a "routine check on the safety of the furnace." After he has thoroughly dismantled the furnace he refuses to reassemble it on the grounds that it is a fire or health hazard. Putting it together again (after the swindler has swiped vital parts) may run into so much money that the homeowner decides to replace a perfectly good heating unit with a new one.

The scare technique is another lucrative racket often used by thieves electrical contractors. A phony inspector, frowning on the homeowner's fixtures, wiring and outlets, convinces him that the house is a veritable firetrap. Just by happy coincidence he knows an electrician who can rewire the place properly for a song. He does not mention that in the process the house will be stripped to its foundations after his crony has finish d tearing down walls and ceilings.

Paradoxically the easy availability of loans under Title 1 of FHA to homeowners with whopping bills for major repairs has left the door wide open to the suede-shoe boys, the magazine article reports.

Crooks have profited off a weakness in the Title 1 setup with the results that homeowners have been trapped on fraudulent contracts and once-overlightly work.

Unfortunately FFA does not evaluate the cost of a job, inspect the materials used or check on a contractor's honesty or competence. Assured of its money, the bank issuing the loan seldom processes a Title 1 application as carefully as it would a transaction involving private capital. Thus the borrower is strictly on his own in negotiating a home improvement loan, and is too often the prey of gyp operators.

Best way to keep out of the clutches of these unscrupulous confidence men, the article emphasizes, is to deal exclusively with reputable local tradesmen who intend to stay in business for a long time and will be around to correct faulty installations and materials.

A few pointers are also recommended:

"Don't be stampeded into major projects. It's unlikely a door-to-door solicitor will discover a defect that is an immediate danger to you or the house."

"Before awarding a contract, get several estimates and make certain they are based on identical specifications."

Demand positive identification before letting an inspector from the city or a utility company into your house.

Steer shy of lifelong guarantees. No reputable company gives an unconditional warranty because so many variables affect a product's durability.

Read the fine print in all documents and contracts you sign, then get duplicate copies.

Don't be tempted by "amazing" bargains. Offers of $100-discount certificates for identifying a picture of the Empire State Building or for naming Yankee Doodle as a "mystery" tune are blatant come-ons used by gyp outfits.

Skilled labor and top-grade nationally known materials may seem expensive, but it's infinitely cheaper in the long run to have a job done properly than to hire an itinerant or a handy man."

Costume Parade Is Held at Fessenden Camp

The ninth annual costume parade was the special event of this week at the Fessenden School Day Camp in West Newton. On Wednesday morning, July 25, the campers appeared dressed in an assortment of beautiful or unusual costumes. It was planned that each age group would carry out some basic plan or idea instead of making individual costumes the only motif. This provided an added incentive for wider participation, as practically every one took part.

Among the girls groups the twelve-year old Beavers were chosen by the judges for first place. They represented the well-known skit "I Remember Mama." Included in this group were Julie McEnaney of West Newton, Roseann Schneider of Newtonville, Sara Klein of West Newton, Janet Verner of Brighton, Wesley Merritt of North Easton, Linda Pennington of Newtonville, Barbara Hicks of West Newton, Joan Levin of Brookline and Joyce Canter of Newton Centre, with Miss Mary Dwyer of Watertown, Counselor.

First prize for the boys went to the Red Sox who appeared as a "chain gang". The roster of this group includes Daniel Haven, Newton Centre; David Morris, West Newton; Alan Perrault of Needham; John Bannan of Milton, Billy Brilliant of Newton Centre, Stephen Dexter, Newtonville; Martin Sklar of Chestnut Hill, Barry Rosen, Newtonville; Reevan Benjamin of Newton Centre and Peter Mersky, West Newton. Warren Moore of Natick is Counselor.

Judges were Herbert Callahan, Camp Director, Robert Osborn, Alice Duris and Eva Connors. The committee in charge of this event was Wesley Merritt, Chairman, Dan Bannan, Jean Powers and Edith Whelden.

Recreation Department Holds Mid-Season Play Day at the Peirce Playground

An interesting mid-season Play Day was held at the Peirce Playground on Thursday, July 26, under the auspices of the Recreation Department, C. Evan Johnson, Recreation Commissioner.

Opposition Made to Fuel Storage

At the Monday night meeting of the Board of Aldermen, one of two requests to store inflammables was opposed by abutters.

Five residents led by George K. Kirkcaldy of 95 Webster place, West Newton, objected to the request of the H. W. Marshall Company for a license to store Prestolite tanks at 20 Westwood street, West Newton. The Board voted to continue the hearing before the Franchises and License Committee Monday, August 27, when additional information concerning the proposed storage building and the explosive power of the gas would be provided by the petitioner.

Unopposed was the request of the Raytheon Manufacturing Company for a license to store inflammables at 150 California street, Newton, including 2000 gallons of Class A liquids, 61,000 cubic feet of hydrogen acetylene, 46,000 gallons of fuel oil, and 300 gallons of liquid petroleum gas. A Company representative stated that the petition was brought at the request of the state fire marshal to consolidate into one permit all the licenses now in effect. An increase in the amount of hydrogen was requested in order to allow two trailer trucks with hydrogen to be kept on the premises.

Says Route Not As Planned

Rep. George E. Rawson (R-Newton) this week issued to The Graphic a statement in which he says, in referring to the proposed toll road extension, "if the present contemplated route had been known at the time, it is very likely that there would have been a tremendous uprising against it."

In this statement, Rep. Rawson said:

"My constituents should be informed that I vigorously opposed the act which created the Turnpike Authority, Chapter 354 of the Acts of 1952, when it was before the House of Representatives, and all four of us who then represented Newton, are recorded in the House Journal of May 6, 1952, as voting against it on roll call.

"This was not because I do not believe in modern highways. This bill was too broad a grant of power for the General Court to give to any authority irrevocably. It was presented to the House by the Dever administration on a 'take it or leave it' basis. No amendments were permitted and it was steamrollered through the House by all the power the administration could muster. The House was led to believe that a survey had been made and that the road would lead to the vicinity of Readville as a point of entrance to Boston. I doubted that at the time and recent events have supported that doubt. If the present contemplated route had been known at that time, it is very likely that there would have been a tremendous uprising against it. Not only Newton but several communities to the west of us would have been up in arms."

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Stevenson Certain of Early Democratic Nomination... Kennedy in Thick of Battle For Adlai's Running-mate

Adlai E. Stevenson appears almost certain of winning the Presidential nomination at the Democratic national convention which opens in Chicago next Monday, with victory coming to him not later than the second ballot and possibly on the first if the present swing in his direction continues.

New York's Governor Averell Harriman will fight Stevenson down to the wire, but the odds now appear to be hopelessly stacked against him. Harriman's hopes rested on the possibility of deadlocking the convention for three or four ballots. That no longer seems possible.

The big battle at the Democratic conclave probably will center on the nomination of a Vice Presidential candidate. All the indications are that Senator John F. Kennedy will be in the thick of that struggle, with Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York as his principal opponents.

Ordinarily, the Vice Presidential nominee is picked by the man who wins the Presidential endorsement, not by the delegates. Reports from Chicago, however, have hinted strongly that Adlai Stevenson will leave the choice of his running mate to the assembled delegates.

Toll Extension Likely on Roadbed

Mayor Howard Whitmore last Friday issued a report to the newspapers, the result of a conference with the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority on the proposed extension of its toll road from Weston through Newton to Boston. He termed it purely a factual report, with no comment or expression of opinion by him or other city officials pending completion of studies still underway, according to him, by engineering forces of the Authority.

The full text of the mayor's report of the conference to the newspapers is as follows:

Recent negotiations, discussions and news reports involving the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and the proposed extension route of the toll road from Weston to downtown Boston through the city of Newton have caused much speculation and resulted in many questions being asked concerning the present and future status and plans for the project.

In a matter which involves so many varied and complex factors, developments occur which appear to change the broad picture. This tends to lead to concern and confusion in the minds of the thousands of persons whose property and general welfare may be directly or indirectly affected.

The city of Newton is particularly involved. It has been since the enactment of the Turnpike Authority Act in 1952 and the establishment of a toll road route with its present terminus in Weston, opposite Commonwealth avenue.

CRITICAL MATTER

Officials and state legislators of the city have endeavored constantly to protect its people, property and welfare from the detrimental results of the location and construction of the road and the increased traffic volume and problems which it will inflict on this beautiful, residential suburban community.

The new and more critical phase of the problem began with the passage of an amendment to the Authority Act of '54 permitting the extension of the road into Boston and the determination of the authority to do so. This required, first, the establishment of a traffic interchange which would service the Weston terminal, Route 128, and existing highways through Newton. This was accomplished with minimum property damage in Newton following several conferences and resulting concessions by the turnpike authority.

Now the city is faced with its greatest problem—the extension of the road into Boston. The mayor has refused to make comment on recent news reports, although requested and urged to do so, because of the absence of factual information and authoritative statements on which intelligent judgment and opinions could be made.

To do otherwise might well result in a disservice rather than a service to the people of Newton. Decisions and action in this very important matter will have vital and permanent effect upon the character of the city and the lives of its residents. Hasty and impulsive determination should be avoided.

At a conference yesterday afternoon with the chairman and other officials of the authority, the mayor, city solicitor, and street commissioner of Newton obtained some factual information and statements of intentions and plans which the mayor feels the public should know.

CHANGES POSSIBLE

They should be accepted with the full understanding that to a greater or less degree changes may well occur as various factors unfold and final determinations and decisions are made.

Several questions were asked of the authority officials as follows:

Q—Will a settlement agreeable to both the Turnpike Authority and the Prudential Life Insurance Co. mean that the main lines of the Boston & Albany Railroad will become the toll road extension route through Newton to Boston?

A—Yes.
Q—Would the road be built on track level, would it be elevated, double-decked or a combination of all through Newton?

A—It is intended to build it on track level.

Q—Is it proposed to construct interchanges for the road within the limits of the city of Newton?

If so, how many and where? A—Yes—the authority would prefer to construct three and

Appeal Board Turns Down Auto Laundry

Pointing out the increased traffic hazard which would result from the project and on advice from the city solicitor that a permit is required from the Board of Aldermen, the Board of Appeals, Building Laws, last week turned down the appeal of William Smith of Winchester for a permit to construct an auto laundry at the corner of Needham and Winchester streets, Newton Highlands.

The auto laundry permit is one of two being sought in this city. The second, which is pending in the Aldermanic Claims and Rules Committee, is for a laundry on Boylston street at Florence street, Chestnut Hill.

The Smith case came before the Appeal Board on appeal.

Plan Investment Principles Course

Investment Principles and Practices: A Practical Approach to Your Investments is the title of a new course offered Monday evenings, commencing Sept. 24, by the Evening Division of Newton's public Junior College in its newly acquired quarters at Walnut street and Washington park, Newtonville.

George M. D'Arcy of Framingham, Boston investment counselor, will instruct for fifteen Monday evenings in the College's first semester, 7-9 p.m. Mr. D'Arcy studied and practiced investment at Tufts and with the firm of Merrill, Lynch, Fenner, Pierce, and Beane in its New York offices prior to coming to Boston.

As outlined by Mr. D'Arcy, the course deals with "knowing your way around in the stock market." It includes such topics as risk analysis, the nature and functions of corporations, classes of securities, mechanics of investment, the function of the investment banker, price determination, buying on margin, risk, investment versus speculation, do's and don'ts for beginners and for the experienced, tax aspects, mutual and trust funds. The course carries 2 semester-hours credit for degree candidates in the college.

The course is open also to interested adults of all ages who are not degree candidates at the standard fee of $20. For them some attention will be given to specific investment problems. Inquiries should be directed to the Registrar, Newton Junior College, 40 Elm road, Newtonville (LA 5-6267) until September 1, thereafter to the Walnut street location.

Suggests MTA Use of Rails A Solution

It was disclosed last Friday by Mayor Whitmore that the commuter track of the Boston & Albany Railroad between the South Station and Newton "might be leased for M.T.A. rapid transit service."

If effected, the conversion could be one possible answer to the commuter problem, one of three major points facing the Turnpike Authority in the construction of the toll road extension from Newton to South Station, it was pointed out.

However, a spokesman for the Metropolitan Transit Authority said his agency "has not been approached about it." He indicated that conversion was feasible because M.T.A. trains could use the same gauge track as the railroad, but noted that it would require a third electrified track.

Legislation, he added, would also be necessary for the M.T.A. to connect its lines with the B. & A. tracks.

Constructive Work In Juvenile Field

"Something constructive in the field of juvenile delinquency" is the way Mrs. Seymour S. Getter, president of the League of Women Voters of Newton, described the principle recommendations on probation recently filed by the Legislative Committee concerned with the Massachusetts Correctional System. As a result of several years study of improved measures for the prevention and treatment of juvenile offenders, the 66 Leagues throughout Massachusetts are supporting a strengthened probation system.

It is estimated that $63,000 will be needed to establish the probation system outlined in the new legislation. In their studies, the league members learned that the per capita cost of institutional care in the Commonwealth ranged from $1,556 to $1,712 in 1954, the latest year for which figures were available. At the same time, the cost per probationer was $92. Probation services are not only the foundation of a sound correctional system, but may also be an effective preventative measure. Working through the courts, a sound probation service performs two indispensable functions. The information provided the judge by a probation officer who has made a presentence investigation helps the judge in determining the sentence to be imposed on an offender, and further helps provide for the supervision and control on an individualized basis of each offender placed on probation.

The legislation being proposed is based on the report submitted to Governor Herter by Dr. Nils Wessell, president of Tufts University. The report showed that great variation exists in Massachusetts in stan-

B&A Route To Have 3 Mo. Study

The controversial final link of the East-West toll road from Weston through Newton to Boston was discussed Monday by Gov. Herter and William F. Callahan, chairman of the Turnpike Authority with no statement issuing from either participant.

The only route now under serious consideration is the Boston and Albany Railroad's right of way through Newton and decision on that route has been deferred until a 3-month study has been completed by the Authority's engineers.

AAA Urges Free Expressway

The American Automobile Association has asked Governor Herter to revoke the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority's power to extend the East-West Toll Road from Weston into Boston, urging instead, construction of a free expressway with 90 per cent Federal aid.

Robert S. Kretschmar, executive of the AAA's Massachusetts Division, called upon the Governor to present a special message to the Legislature calling for the change.

"Circumstances have so changed since last year that it is no longer in the public interest to build this necessary artery as a toll road," Kretschmar said. "The Bay State's greatest highway need is for a limited access expressway to serve all the people who live in the suburban towns west of Boston and must commute between their homes and the city."

"The new Federal Highway Financing Law will provide 90 per cent of the money for the construction of the western expressway if it is not built as a toll road. A free public artery will serve the needs of Greater Boston residents far better than a toll road."

A former assistant superintendent of schools in Fitchburg has been appointed principal of the John Ward School in Newton Centre, according to an announcement made by the School Committee. She is Miss Madeline E. Bartell.

Miss Bartell, successor to Miss Mildred March who retired after 28 years as principal, spent three years in the Fitchburg School system. Before that she was for three years director of elementary school services for the state of New Hampshire.

She has held supervisory positions in elementary education in the public schools of Haverhill and Needham. Her previous classroom experience includes teaching from grades one to seven in several Massachusetts communities, among them Belmont, Canton and Fairhaven.

Miss Bartell, who earned her bachelor's degree at Bridgewater State Teachers' College in 1937, did graduate study at Boston University and Harvard, receiving her master's de-

Reiss Zone Change Up Nov. 19

On request of the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company, for permission to operate buses on the proposed East-West Toll Road in this city, the Board of Aldermen at its meeting Monday night ordered a public hearing to be held on the matter.

No date was set for the hearing on the petition of the bus company for a license "to operate motor vehicles for transportation of passengers for hire in the city of Newton, in both directions on the proposed East-West Toll Road extension of the New York-Boston highway and proposed ramps, between the Newton-Weston town line and the Newton-Boston city line."

At the same meeting the board voted to hold a public hearing on November 19 on the petition for changing the zone of the Reiss Associates building at 48 Elmwood street, Newton and nearby land, from manufacturing to business.

Inquest Decision Expected to be Filed Shortly

Findings in the inquest into the deaths of two patients at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital last June will probably be ready either the end of this week or early next week, Judge Donald E. Mayberry, presiding Justice of the Newton District Court reported.

This inquest was held to determine whether any criminal negligence was involved in the death by sodium nitrite of Gordon M. McMullen, 53, of 30 Oak terrace, Newton Highlands, and Mrs. Marion C. duMonth, 50, of 41 Glenley terrace, Brighton.

Extension-

feels that at least one is essential. Locations depend upon further studies.

Q—Would land-taking be necessary along the route through the city?

A—Yes.

Q—To what extent would land-takings result?

A—The amount of land-taking and locations would depend on varying widths of the present right of way. The road itself will require a minimum of 93 feet and additional amounts will be necessary if any of present tracks are retained. Each track will require a minimum of 12 feet. Further studies will be required before final determination can be made.

Q—What commuter service, if any, would remain available to Newton, Wellesley, and other main line residences?

A—This is a difficult question for the authority to answer. In fact, it cannot be answered definitely now. Commuter service depends primarily on the railroad. The authority is making provision in its thinking and planning for two tracks, of which one very possibly would be used for a combination of freight and commuter service and the other exclusively for commuter service. The commuter track, particularly if it is the only one retained, might be leased for MTA services. This subject is of real interest and concern to the authority, as it desires not only retention of commuter service, but improvement of it. It is one requiring further negotiations with the railroad.

Q—What freight service would remain available to Newton?

A—No definite answer to this question can be made now. The situation has been covered to some extent in previous answer, but it is our belief that the railroad desires to continue freight services.

Q—When is it expected that a definite and final determination of the extension route will be made?

A—Within six to nine months. Q—When will final and complete reports of traffic origin and destination figures, studies and other pertinent and associated statistics now being prepared by the Authority's consultants be available?

A—In approximately 90 to 100 days.

NO ALTERNATIVE

Q—How long a period would be required to do the actual construction of the extension through Newton?

A—Approximately two to 2½ years for the entire route to Boston.

Q—Is any other route through or around the city of Newton currently under consideration?

A—No, unless some unforeseen engineering difficulty arises which would make the use of railroad route impossible.

Q—Why has the main line route been selected?

A—Because it is the shortest, most economical to construct, and involves the least amount of land and property takings and displacement of persons.

Q—Regardless of the outcome of negotiations in the Back Bay area, is it your intention to use the railroad route?

A—Yes.

From the answers given, much basic, factual and authoritative information has been obtained from the authority. This information is being reviewed thoroughly, carefully studied and analyzed in the light of its broad and specific effects on the city. Studies by city officials have been underway for some time. They will be expanded and re-directed in view of this most recent information. The mayor has no comments or opinions to offer until the studies have been completed and such further information as may be necessary is obtained. The mayor will continue to exert his maximum effort in the protection of the city's interests, including the retention of full commuter service.

from the refusal of Building Commissioner Arthur Campbell to issue a building permit for the laundry in Newton Highlands. Judge Louis L. Green of Cambridge, represented the appellant at a public hearing held July 19.

Following a review of the case and the hearing, the decision by the Board of Appeals stated:

"Upon the evidence we find that the proposed auto laundry would add to the heavily traveled corner an unusual increase in traffic, which would be dangerous to the adjacent residential neighborhood."

"Notwithstanding the property is in a manufacturing district, Section 23.7 of the Zoning Ordinance prohibits any building which may be injurious, obnoxious or offensive to such a neighborhood by reason of noise, smoke, odors, gas, dust or similar objectionable features or dangerous to a neighborhood on account of fire or any other cause."

"Also we are advised by the City Solicitor that recent amendments to the Zoning Ordinance, particularly the amendments to Section 23.7-C, requires approval of the Board of Aldermen for an auto laundry even in a manufacturing district."

Therefore the petition is denied. The decisions were signed by Charles S. Grover, chairman; Fred A. Hawkins and Louis W. Ross.

dards governing probation workers, as to qualifications required for the job, caseloads and salaries. The report indicated that improvement can come only through a strengthened administration of probation, with the power to establish standards. To achieve this, the legislation calls for the establishment of a Committee on Probation, of which the Chief Justice of the Superior Court shall be chairman. Other members of this Committee shall be the Chief Justice of the Municipal Court of Boston, the chairman of the administrative committee of the district courts and two persons appointed by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court, to serve for terms of five years. Members of the Committee on Probation would receive no compensation. ## Over 50 Hear O'Dea on Crime Prevention Representative James O'Dea Jr., a democratic candidate for the office of District Attorney of Middlesex County, was the guest of honor at a gathering held last Thursday evening at the Lake avenue home of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Gass. Over 50 guests heard Mr. O'Dea express himself on the matter of crime prevention in Middlesex County.

Mr. O'Dea, who has served 8 years in the General Court as Representative from Lowell, is now Majority Whip in the House, and a well known trial lawyer of wide experience. He is a graduate magna cum laude from Notre Dame, was in the top 10th of his class at Harvard Law School and holds a Master's degree in government. Mr. O'Dea is a three-decorated veteran of World War II.

His interest in crime prevention, Mr. O'Dea explained, stems from his work on the Committee on the Reorganization of the Correction System, and particularly from his Chairmanship of a special committee studying prison systems throughout the nation. He emphasized that his experience in this area convinces him that an effective, humane job must be done and can be done, and that a fresh, enlightened approach, particularly in the case of juvenile and first offenders, is of prime importance.

Mr. O'Dea has been a guest at the home of several Newton residents, to meet and talk with interested citizens. Among parties in his honor, were those given by Dr. and Mrs. Paul Myerson, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Corwin, Dr. and Mrs. Fred Snell, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Potter, Dr. and Mrs. Philip LeCompte and Dr. and Mrs. Norman Zamcheck.

A number of parties are planned in various parts of the city to afford voters an opportunity to meet Representative O'Dea. Mrs. Paul Myerson and Mrs. Joseph Corwin have announced that any person wishing to attend may do so by contacting them.

Alexander Secheyco of 1089 Chestnut st., has been accepted for admission this fall to Wentworth Institute.

Burke Sees Herter Watching White House Not State House

Former Rep. James A. Burke of Hyde Park today demanded that Governor Herter "think of the State House instead of the White House" and take steps to oppose "an unlawful conspiracy" of Massachusetts railroads to drastically curtail passenger service throughout the State.

Burke, who seeks renomination as the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, also demanded that Chairman David M. Brackman of the State Public Utilities Commission make known what he intends to do to prevent elimination of commuter service by the New Haven, Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine railroads.

"With the admission by the Boston & Maine railroad that it is getting out of the bus business, the last piece has been fitted into the jigsaw puzzle and we know now that the railroads serving Massachusetts are engaged in an unlawful conspiracy to curtail passenger business throughout the state."

"Officials of the New Haven, Boston & Albany and Boston & Maine have shown a callous disregard for the interests of tens of thousands of persons all over the state who must have rail transportation to and from work; and hundreds of merchants whose business will suffer if rail service, already severely curtailed, is further reduced."

Named General Manager of Polaroid Corp.

Vice President David W. Skinner of Polaroid Corporation has been appointed the firm's general manager, it was announced today by Dr. Edwin H. Land, president.

Skinner, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology ('23), has been in charge of all manufacturing since 1946, with responsibility for the rapid expansion in output of Polaroid Land Cameras and 60-second Land films.

He was elected a vice president in 1951, six years after joining Polaroid to direct production of a military weapons project.

Managerial responsibilities are not new to the Polaroid executive. During his affiliation with SKF Industries, Inc. in the early 1940's, Skinner was general manager of three factories employing 6000 persons. Earlier, he was associated with General Electric Company where he was manufacturing superintendent of the firm's Philadelphia Works.

Skinner is 53 years old, a native of Chicago. He now resides in Waban and is a former president of the Waban Improvement Society. He is also a member of the Advisory Council of Nichols Junior College, the American Management Association, the Waltham Chamber of Commerce, and the M.I.T. Alumni Board.

Former Newton Minister To Preach Sunday

Rev. Herbe Hitchen, D.D., known to Newton church-goers for a quarter of a century, will return to the pulpit he held from 1931 to 1950 when he serves as guest preacher at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, August 12, at the Summer Union Services at the First Unitarian Society in Newton. His sermon theme will be "Man a."

Now minister of the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Greater Buffalo, N. Y., Dr. Hitchen will be welcomed back by his own former parishioners as well as the combined congregations of the eight Newton churches cooperating for these Summer

Union Services. Since leaving his West Newton pastorate, Dr. Hitchen has returned annually as guest preacher at these summer services.

For years Dr. and Mrs. Hitchen have spent their summer vacations in Maine. Both their married daughters, and three grandchildren, live in Massachusetts. They have a grown son also.

A native of Yorkshire, England, Dr. and Mrs. Hitchen came to the United States by way of Canada in the early 1920's. He studied for the ministry at Meadville Theological School, Meadville, Pa., which later awarded him an honorary doctor of divinity degree. Dr. Hitchen served as minister of the Unitarian church in Dunkirk, N. Y., before coming to the West Newton Unitarian Church, where he completed nineteen years as minister before being called to

Seeks Democratic Nomination For Congress

At a meeting of workers held last week, Ralph Joseph Gilman, who resides at 15 Delano Park, the First Congregational Unitarian Church in Buffalo. This congregation has since joined forces with the Universalist Church and is now known as the Unitarian-Universalist Church of Greater Buffalo.

The poetry readings which Dr. Hitchen conducted informally at the parsonage in West Newton for many years have never been resumed. Dr. Hitchen is a speaker much in demand by academic, civic and secular groups as well as being rated among the best dozen Unitarian preachers in the United States and Canada.

RALPH J. GILMAN

Roslindale, formerly announced his candidacy for Congress in the tenth congressional district on the Democratic ticket. In the audience were many old timers, who were members of the old Gleason Associates. The chairman introduced the candidate as a member of another generation of Gleasons. He is a nephew of the late Richard, late John, and Mildred Gleason, former representative and city councilors, and real representatives of the people.

Ralph made it known it will be a battle of issues, not personalities, when he stated there is no short cut to good government and that the present incumbent is a do-nothing congressman.

Educated in the parochial schools of Boston, Ralph J. Gilman also attended the Gilman Commercial School, Bangor, Me.; Cambridge School of Business; Newman Preparatory, and Staley College. He is a member of the Holy Name Society; Knights of Columbus, 4th Degree; Veterans' Boxing Association; Local No. 8, AFL-CIO; member of Contract Committee; Union negotiator; union councilor, former member of joint executive board; Catholic Labor Guild, CIO City Council, and the New England Council.

FROM TOP TO BOTTOM the dining room of our famous Newton Corner cafeteria has been thoroughly improved . . . completely modernized and beautifully decorated. By all estimates, easily it now can be described as about the finest restaurant of its kind in the city.

• And the folks in Newton, in Waltham, Wellesley and other surrounding communities, who for years have been so patient with our old restaurant, now will be delighted with the many changes, and the spic and span newness of it all. Delightfully air cooled and air conditioned as it is, with its modernistic decorations and extremely comfortable and attractive furniture, it is indeed a most attractive spot in which to enjoy one of our good meals.

• We feel we have a right to be very proud of this new restaurant. And as we have been part of Newton's business community for over thirty years, we now take great pride in offering our hundreds of customers the very best. Come in and see it for yourself.

Window on Washington

BY CONGRESSMAN LAURENCE CURTIS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1 — Among items of legislation passed during the closing days of the session were the following. Others will be mentioned in my next and final letter of this session.

Foreign aid or "mutual security." The final appropriation agreed upon in conference between the two branches was $3.7 billion. This compares with the prior House appropriation of $3.4 billion, Senate appropriation of $4.1 billion, and the amount originally requested by the administration to be authorized of $4.9 billion. This final appropriation included a Senate amendment barring any use of funds in the bill for military assistance or military equipment to Yugoslavia.

Housing. The bill provided for continuation of existing housing programs, including slum clearance and urban renewal, public housing, military housing, rural housing, insured mortgages, and secondary mortgages market.

There was the usual controversy as to the continuation of public housing, resulting in the authorization of new units at a compromise figure of 35,000 for 2 years, which was the amount requested by the administration.

A new provision was added for housing for the elderly. Single persons over 65 years of age were made eligible for admittance to public housing projects and were given certain preference. The provision for federal mortgage insurance in connection with the purchase of homes by persons over 65 were liberalized.

The revolving fund for the college housing program was increased from $500 million to $750 million. This is a program of federal aid for college hous-cago on August 13. The Republican convention will meet at the Cow Palace in San Francisco on Aug. 20. In each case, the convention will last the better part of a week, with the final and climactic action being the nomination of the candidates for President and Vice President.

At the Democratic convention there will be up to 2,744 delegates. There will be 1,372 votes, with many delegates having a half of a vote, and 686½ votes needed for nomination.

At the Republican convention there will be 1,323 delegates, each with one vote, with 662 votes needed for nomination. It is planned to have but one session a day from 3 to 7 p.m. Pacific time, 6 to 10 p.m. Boston time. The convenience of TV viewers must have been taken into consideration!

Baby's Coming Dramatic Times For a Family

You are expecting a baby! Wonderful! The coming of a new baby especially the first one, is one of most dramatic and drastic changes you will experience in family life.

During the months of expectancy, your baby is only an idea. Even though you have wanted and planned for the baby, there are times when you have doubts and misgivings about how you will manage the big responsibility ahead of you.

If you have had some experience with babies, you will have more confidence. If not, you will be surprised at some of the unpredictable behavior of the newborn. But if you work together as two parents, you will learn to understand and enjoy your child. You will grow closer together as husband and wife. Though a baby is tiny, he is tough and sturdy, too. You need not be afraid he will break. He can take a lot. As you become accustomed to handling him you will find it easier. It will be easier for the baby, too.

This little bit of humanity has as many adjustments to make as you have, or maybe more. He learns to breathe, to suck, to cry, to lie in a bed, to be handled, bathed, dressed, and fed. So you are learning together. Schedules are less rigid today, because we know each child is an individual and we try to satisfy his needs in a way which suits him. Gradually you will be able to work out a schedule satisfactory to all of you.

There are many good books and inexpensive pamphlets about the care and feeding of a baby. Young parents will enjoy reading and studying these together, both before and after the baby is born. Your doctor will give you good help, too. One of your first decisions is the baby's name. Perhaps you have a family name all ready. Think what the name means, how it combines with your surname, and how the child may feel about that name as he grows up. The way he learns to feel about himself will be a big factor in his later relationships with others.

You can do much to help your baby grow into a happy well-adjusted person. Both parents should share in the work and the fun. At first the baby sleeps much of the time. But soon his waking periods will become longer. He senses your feelings toward him. Through your muscles and his, he becomes aware of your messages of love and reassurance. The slow, smooth, careful way in which you handle him helps him to be relaxed and then he becomes: "such a good baby." Your love is essential. You wanted a baby. You are satisfied with what you got. You accept boy or girl, red hair or black, a tiny, dainty body or a big, husky one. You also accept if the child is slow or handicapped.

Plan a little extra time to play with your baby while caring for him as well as special times. Talk to him. He will not understand your words, but the tone of your voice can please him. Soon he will make sounds and try to imitate you. Listen to his cries. Learn to understand their meanings, so you will know what he needs and can do something about it. Don't hurry your baby to keep up with some other one the same age. Praise his successes. Ignore his failures. Each age and stage will be fun for both parents.

Mindful of young college and career preferences, sportswear designers have kept fashion "upmost" in fall collections. After viewing manufacturers' new fall lines, women's wear fashion analysts note that the slim silhouette is definitely established; consequently, the slim skirt stays and the most significant college sportswear fashion innovations for fall are concentrated above the waistline.

There is only one exception to the rule of fashion centered above the waistline: Paneled skirts. And these are very often slim, part of the three-piece coordinations for the costume look.

The low waistline comes into its own this fall, with the emergence of a big crop of blouson tops. They can be pullovers or button front, but most share this feature: The adjustable waistband. Some actually blouse and are gathered; others just "fold over" in a smooth line, have a boxy look.

This fall's college silhouette introduces the waist-or Empire-length jacket, an obvious derivation of the caraco. These little jackets appear everywhere and while the blouson is more a separate, these are more in the costume vein. They "belong" more to a skirt or sheath because often they are lined with contrast fabric that makes the coordinated skirt.

For either the blouson or the skirt jacket, drawstring hems are a new touch. They make for easy adjustability, as well as for soft blousing.

Necklines are another way to focus fashion at the top. Stand-away cowl-turtle necklines involve enough fabric to suggest bulk. Hoods, appearing on everything from jackets to blouses to dresses, can be worn as a back-dipping cowl that drapes into soft folds. Others unbutton into deep sailor collars and double collar treatments.

Bulk and contrast, rather than cut or details, are further expressions of top interest. Bulk is obviously achieved in chunkyknits—plenty of these College girls last fall began to adopt the fleece-lined auto coat as their campus coat. The dressier versions appearing this fall look like choices for the career girl to wear in the city; less formal types should appeal to her for general knockabout wear.

The auto coat serves as a natural introduction to "loden," an overwhelming trend in fall sportswear. Often this style comes in loden fabric for fall and its genesis has been credited to the short loden coat with toggle fastenings.

Loden actually takes several directions. As a fabric, authentic loden is being used sparingly, primarily because of short supply and high prices. As a color, loden green is everywhere in every type of fabric—meltons that resemble the actual fabric, but mostly in flannels.

As for styling, loden fabric and loden color again make a multiple facet trend. In sportswear there is loden used in Tyrolean-inspired separates, a look that also takes in Provincial prints. Loden fabric is used in rugged outdoor sportswear, in toggle-fastened coats and auto coats. And newest of all is the softer application of loden fabric: Clitified coats with silk or print linings, coordinated with loden skirts and a shirt in order to make an ensemble. The color loden green is loosely interpreted, can either be an olive cast or a grayer version.

Flannel, always a basic fabric in fall sportswear collections, and last year the rage in charcoal shades, has lightened up in this year's casual clothes. Medium gray is the shade being shown.

Dry, hard-surfaced fabrics are staging a return for fall college wear and these shape up as a counter-trend to all the soft woolsens which are still in the majority. Whipcord, cavalry twill, and covert are some of the new fabrics that tailor crisply in Bermuda shorts, trousers, skirts and even jackets.

In tweeds, black and white large herringbone types have come up strongly. Subdued two-color tweeds and diagonals also appear.

The importance of plaids has diminished, and in their place stripes have come in. These are men's wear stripes, restrained in coloring, very right for Ivy look styling in jackets, skirts and Bermudas. Foulard and small paisley motifs are all over the lot, used primarily in the shirts and blouses coordinated with woolsens.

Colors this fall are neither as brash and bright nor as sober as last year. Loden greens are first generally; medium grays, beige, camel and taupe are the important neutrals. Browns are important again—in warm copper, nutmeg and rust shadings, also in deep but not blackened tones.

Cranberry red is used alone in separates and also as a contrast shade with other colors. Unscoured white appears in bulky knits.

Sylvia Sidney
Summer Theater

Sylvia Sidney of Broadway and Hollywood fame will star in the laugh-provoking comedy, "Anniversary," at Lee Falk's Boston Summer theatre the week of Aug. 13, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday. "Anniversary Waltz" had a year's run on Broadway and is rated as one of the funniest comedies ever produced.

Sylvia first won fame on the legitimate stage and later on the screen by her realistic portrayal of drab, down-trodden girls but, finally tiring of being "typed" for such characters, emerged as glamorous ladies of the world. For example, the stylish and sophisticated Washington newspaper correspondent in "The Searching Wind," a Paramount release.

Her first stage role was a small part in "Challenge of Youth," produced by James Gleason and Ernest Truax, who claim credit as her "discoverers." This was followed by parts in "Crime" (in which she first appeared in Boston); "Mirrors," "The Squall," "Don't Count Your Chickens," "Nice Women," "The Old Fashioned Girl," "Crossroads" and "Many a Slip." Then she scored a smashing hit in "Bad Girl," and Hollywood beckoned to her again.

B. P. Shulberg signed her to play opposite Gary Cooper in "City Streets." She went from one screen success to another in "An American Tragedy," "Street Scene," "Ladies of the Big House," "Fury" and "Dead End," among others.

Returning to Broadway, she appeared in the Theatre Guild production "To Quito and Back." With Franchot Tone she played in "Gentle People" in New York, and then was lured back to Hollywood to appear opposite Humphrey Bogart in "The Wagons Roll at Night."

Back again to Broadway for "Angel Street," and "Jane Eyre." More recently, Miss Sidney co-starred with John Loder in "Anne of the 1000 Days" and toured in "Goodbye My Fancy," "The Innocents" and "Black Chiffon." Three years ago she starred in New York in the hit "The Four Poster" and subsequently made guest star visits with "Angel Street," "Four Poster" and "Bell, Book and Candle." Miss Sidney has been starred on many TTV programs and on panel shows.

Now In Charge of Polaroid Sales Group

General Sales Manager Robert C. Casselman of Polaroid Corporation, who resides in Auburn, has been elected vice president in charge of sales, it was announced today by J. H. Booth, executive vice president.

Booth simultaneously disclosed that Polaroid's directors also appointed Casselman a member of the Operating Policy Committee which governs the planning and direction of general company operations and policies.

"Mr. Casselman has played a vital role in the rapid growth of our company in the photographic field, and we're very pleased to announce his election to a vice presidency," said Booth.

As sales vice president, Casselman will be fully responsible for all phases of the firm's marketing programs—field sales, advertising, sales promotion, product publicity and customer service. In promoting the sale of Polaroid's chief product, the 60-second Land Camera, Casselman will direct expenditure of a yearly budget in excess of $2,000,000—one of the largest in the photographic industry.

Casselmann is 37 years old, a graduate of Massachusetts Institute of Technology ('39). Most of his business career has been in sales, merchandising and advertising, although during World War II he was engaged in production and engineering of military products at Polaroid.

In 1942, Casselman left market research and advertising work at Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, to join Polaroid, and his first post there was as a foreman in a production department for military goggles. He advanced to become a supervisor in the production control department, then entered engineering administration on a special Navy project.

After the war, he participated in the engineering and development of the revolutionary 60-second Polaroid Land Camera, and when the camera was ready for the market in 1949 Casselman switched permanently from engineering to become the company's first sales man in the photographic field.

During recent years he has played a major role in lifting newcomer Polaroid to near the top in today's photographic industry rankings. Under his direction, Polaroid's sales department has grown to include full-time field sales representatives serving almost 10,000 dealers directly in all parts of the United States. Last year the company set a record for itself with $26,421,000 in sales, and for the first half of 1956 has chalked up gains of 25 percent in sales and 80 percent in earnings.

In June 1951, Casselman was named sales manager. Two years later, the Pittsburgh, Pa., native was appointed sales and advertising manager; and, in December 1954, general sales manager.

Casselmann is widely known in the photographic industry. He flies nearly 100,000 miles a year on company business, and is frequently called upon by trade organizations and publications to speak and write about selling and merchandising.

The Casselman family, which includes wife Dorothy, three sons and a daughter, lives at 24 Hawthorne avenue, Auburn.

No 2nd Shots Until Later

Lack of information from the State Department of Public Health regarding the shipment of the needed Salk vaccine in order to administer second shots before the opening of schools, has resulted in a postponement of the project.

Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, acting director of Public Health in this city, however, announced that preliminary plans are being made to give first shots to persons, aged 15 to 19, after the completion of the second shot program for persons aged 6 months to 15 years.

At least two weeks will be required to set up an inoculation program and two additional weeks are required to complete the program, Dr. Godfrey points out, so that it would be impossible to administer the vaccine before Labor Day.

In view of the fact that there is an absence of polio cases here indicates that there is no urgency in administering the vaccine, Dr. Godfrey pointed out.

The inoculation program will start during the second week of school since the first week will be devoted to physical examinations in connection with school athletics, Dr. Godfrey said.

The Health Department has ordered 15,042 shots of Salk vaccine for second inoculation for persons aged 6 months to 15 years, and will need about 5,000 additional shots for persons from the latter age up to 19 years of age. In addition, the Department has ordered 1,300 shots for pregnant women.

During the department's program last May, a total of 16,704 doses of vaccine were administered.

Hanrahan To Teach In Holland

A teacher at Bigelow Junior High School since 1941, John P. Hanrahan has been selected as an exchange teacher between Holland and the United States under the Fulbright Exchange Act. He has been assigned to Tilburg.

Now a resident of Lexington, Mr. Hanrahan was a language teacher at Belmont High School two years before going to Newton, where he teaches French and Latin as well as being a consultant in foreign languages in the Newton school system.

He attended Boston Latin School and was graduated from Boston College with the Class of 1933. Recipient of Master of Education degrees from Boston College and Boston Teachers College, he studied two summers at the Sorbonne, France. Five years ago he was in Belgium as a Fulbright exchange teacher.

The Newton teacher is a veteran of World War II and was a French and German interpreter for his unit while in Europe. With his wife and their three daughters, Barbara, Marjorie and Judith, the Hanrahans sail Saturday (Aug. 18) on the Holland-American Line's Westerdam for Europe.

Points Out "Freeway" Alternative

In an effort to determine the views of its membership relative to the proposed East-West toll road extension through this city, the Chamber of Commerce has sent a questionnaire to its members asking their opinion on the matter. The questionnaire contains two questions on the Toll Road and two questions on a possible Freeway.

The Chamber states that "there will be some kind of a thruway through Newton" and the bulletin goes on to say that "any thruway will substantially effect not only the business of many of us for better or worse, but also the nearby land use in the city."

TWO ROUTES

Relative to the Toll Road question, the Chamber asks its members if they would prefer it over and adjacent to the B&A tracks, or if they would prefer it approximately along the Western Expressway route.

It then asks an expression of opinion on a "Freeway," either along the B&A, or along the Western Expressway.

A Western Expressway route, to which the Chamber refers, would travel west from Allston, go through Brighton to the abattoir lands, then along the river to opposite Watertown Square; then by the river or over Victory Field, etc., to the Watertown side over the dump, then crossing back to Newton through the land by North street, then along the cemetery to Waltham street, then along or close to the Waltham line through built up land, or possibly a tunnel, to near the Pine street dump, then to the flowed meadow, then the Auburndale playground to Commonwealth avenue near Norumbega, then either over Commonwealth avenue or through the M&B bus depot and the Norumbega parking lot to hook up with the Toll

GOP Lose 2,500, Democrats Gain 400 In Past 4 Years

Since the last state primaries four years ago, the Republican party in this city shows a loss of nearly 2,500 while for the same period, the Democratic party rolls have been increased by almost 400. This was revealed in a compilation of voters recently made by City Clerk Monte G. Basbas.

The total voting strength of the city of June 1, was 42,563, but a late rush of new registrations is expected to boost this total for the Presidential election next November and the number will probably exceed 50,000, Mr. Basbas predicted. In the state primaries in 1954, there were 42,956 registered voters.

The June 1 compilation showed a registration of 17,395 Republicans; 5,263 Democrats; and, 10,905 un-enrolled voters. Of the total registered vote here, 22,933 are women and 19,630 are men. For two years ago, the corresponding figures were 19,713 Republicans; 4,906 Democrats; and, 18,336 un-enrolled. At that time, of the total registered, 22,857 were women and 19,802 men.

In the State and Presidential primaries in 1952, there were 21,117 registered Republicans; 4,371 Democrats and 25,488 un-enrolled for a total of 50,976.

The totals listed by precincts as of June 1, were as follows:

Ward 1—Precinct 1, 1077; Precinct 2, 1213; Precinct 3, 1005; Ward 2—Precinct 1, 1217; Precinct 2, 1501; Precinct 3, 904; Precinct 4, 1558; Precinct 5, 1271; Ward 3—Precinct 1, 1263; Precinct 2, 1678; Precinct 3, 1553; Precinct 4, 1939; Ward 4—Precinct 1, 1727; Precinct 2, 775; Precinct 3, 1672; Ward 5—Precinct 1, 1194; Precinct 2, 1873; Precinct 3, 1702; Precinct 4, 1791; Precinct 5, 1505; Precinct 6, 2179; Precinct 7, 919; Ward 6—Precinct 1, 1556; Precinct 2, 1556; Precinct 3, 1619; Precinct 4, 1400; Precinct 5, 1658; Ward 7—Precinct 1, 1076; Precinct 2, 1000; Precinct 3, 1171.

An analysis of new building permits, including alterations, for the first six months of this year as well as during the same period in 1955 and 1954, would appear to indicate that the potential of tax revenue, except through increased tax rates, is reaching the saturation point in this city.

For the first six months in 1954, the estimated cost of building permits totaled $6,063,899, compared with $4,657,277 in 1955 and only $2,618,813 this year.

From the above it is to be noted that new building permits for the first six months of this year as compared with a 'milar period two years ago, is over 43 per cent less and for the six-month period this year is slightly less than fifty percent of the total estimated building costs of last year.

The decline in the totals for the last three years may be attributed to any of three factors:

declining amount of land available; lack of demand for new homes; or, present high cost of building construction.

The decline in building cost for the past three years is in pace with the number of permits issued. In 1954, for the first six-month period, 556 permits were issued; in 1955, 536 permits

More than 21,000 Newton people made use of local Red Feather services last year, according to Franklin N. Flaschen, general chairman of Newton's 1957 United Red Feather Campaign.

In addition 5,072 Newton residents were helped by 58 Red Feather health and welfare services located in Boston or in other metropolitan communities.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Truman Endorsement of Averell Harriman Turns Adlai's 'Sure Thing' into a Bitter Struggle...

CHICAGO, Aug. 16—Adlai E. Stevenson is still a strong favorite to win the Democratic nomination for President tonight or tomorrow, but he no longer is considered the "sure thing" that he was five or six days ago.

Former President Truman's endorsement of New York's Governor Averell Harriman has turned what looked like an easy run for Adlai into a bitter, back-to-the-wall fight which is expected to reach a climax on the second or third ballot.

Truman has succeeded in taking away votes from Stevenson in many delegations and shifting them to Harriman. He has shifted in the Massachusetts contingent and in other blocs across the country.

Meanwhile, some of the favorite son candidates, notably Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri, who had planned to withdraw from the contention after the first ballot, have adopted a wait-and-see attitude, hopeful that the political lightning might strike them, if a deadlock develops between Stevenson and Harriman.

If a drift away from Stevenson starts in the delegates from the deep South, which have been counted on as Adlai's bandwagon, it will be because Southern leaders consider there is a chance that Symington might emerge as the compromise choice.

An alternative from the flow of traffic might be to cross the Charles at the bridge on a causeway to Weston and split, one fork going to Route 128 toward Route 20, the other running down the Weston side of the river, mostly over M.D.C. land about one-half mile to the Toll Road Interchange.

Bank Branch In Wayland Is Now Open

The West Newton Savings Bank has just completed the opening of a new branch office in the Town of Wayland, according to Kenneth W. Rogers, President of the bank.

The building occupied by the bank was one of the first brick school houses in the Town and was built in 1808. It was later converted to a residence which has now been completely remodelled for use by the Bank. If remodeling and redecorating, every effort has been made to preserve the early American atmosphere. The new wood-work outside is white with black shutters, and the old bricks, believed to have been made in Wayland, have been used in the first floor outer wall. The lobby and managers office are carpeted with broadloom and a scenic paper covers ones wall. Furniture is colonial pine as is the counter and specially built customers desk.

A warm welcome was received by the Bank on opening day from nearly 800 visitors, all of whom seemed to be the most favorably impressed with the warmth and informality of the new office.

"At the time the legislature authorized the Authority to come east of Route 128," the Chamber states, "the state would not then finance a western gateway on a 50-50 basis with the federal government. This year the Federal Highway Act now allows the state to build on about a 10-90 basis with federal funds supplying the 90 per cent." It was also pointed out in the bulletin that, at present, only the legislature can limit the legal power of the Authority.

In this connection, the bulletin explains the authority which the Toll Road Authority possesses, and states that there is no legal limit to the amount of financing and that the Authority can spend what it can float. The Authority also possesses the Right of Eminent Domain, except for railroad land.

APPROVAL NEEDED

However, as pointed out, the Massachusetts Department of Public Works must approve the location of the route, and if railroad land is used, affecting freight or passenger service, the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities become involved. At the moment, however, there are no real plans available as to the details of the actual construction proposed.

"The strength of the Authority," the Chamber points out, "other than legal, lies most of all in the all around ability of its personnel, especially at the top; then in the fact that it will cause little drain on state funds; then on potential patronage, both user and political. As for the rail route, it is aided also by the wish of the B&A to cut losses on its commuter traffic. The Authority may be limited in practice by the weaker bond market, made still weaker by the possibility of a western expressway nearby built on the 10-90 formula."

The membership of the Chamber has been urged to return the questionnaire as soon as possible, after which a survey of the result will be compiled and announced.

duties Monday, August 27. He comes to WBZ-TV direct from WAAM-TV in Baltimore where he was program manager since June of 1949.

During his tenure there, the station was the recipient of numerous honors, the latest being the Robert E. Sherwood Award, recently established by the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Republic for programs dealing with freedom and justice. WAAM-TV won this award for "The Baltimore De-Segregation Report," a "live" documentary giving a complete report of the problems faced by the city of Baltimore in their de-segregation efforts. This documentary was produced under Mr. Cahan's direct supervision. Mr. Cahan is keenly aware of the local television station's responsibilities to the community in which it is located, and believes that programming should be geared to the entertainment and education of the family as a unit.

He further believes that while a great deal of television programming will continue to be filmed, there will always be a place for local and network 'live' shows.

In making the announcement of Mr. Cahan's appointment to the WBZ-TV executive staff, Mr. Toole pointed out that the station's program schedule has been revamped considerably during the last two months to provide the best possible viewing balance so that "entertaining television covering a wide range of subjects is available for every member of the family."

A native of Philadelphia, Mr. Cahan is a graduate of Penn State and first became interested in radio when, after his graduation, he was advertising manager for a Harrisburg department store. In this post he guided the store's first successful radio campaign.

During World War II, he served as a pilot with the Army Air Corps in the European Theatre of Operations and was discharged in 1946 with the rank of Major.

After his release from the service, he joined the Food Fair supermarket chain in Philadelphia as assistant to the director of advertising and sales promotion. Later he became president of the Advertising Clearing House in New York. However, the lure of television broadcasting brought him back to Philadelphia to assume the role of writer-editor of WFIL-TV's newscast operation, which won the Headliners' Award during this period.

In October of 1948, he took over as operations manager of WAAM-TV in Baltimore and was promoted to program manager in June of the following year.

Payments to Employees Entitled to Workmen's Compensation. If any employee who is entitled to sick leave receives an injury which is compensable by the city under G.L., C. 152, he shall, with the approval of his department head and the mayor, be paid by the city the difference between his weekly wage at the time he is injured, exclusive of a crime and the amount received as disability and dependency compensation from the workmen's compensation agent of the city. The employee's sick leave accumulation shall be charged for all differential payments made hereunder by deducting from such accumulation the whole number of days of sick leave nearest equivalent to the aggregate amount of such payments made to the employee, half days being considered as nearest the next larger number of whole days, and such differential payments shall be continued only to the extent of such sick leave accumulation.

"Any differential payments for an employee authorized as aforesaid shall cease upon the signing by such employee of a form of agreement, furnished by the Division of Industrial Accidents, to discontinue weekly compensation, the employee's return to work, or upon a report to the head of such employee's department by the City Physician or by a duly qualified physician or surgeon that such employee is not disabled from doing his particular work or similar work which is available for him and such 'differential payments may be discontinued at any time by his department head with the approval of the Mayor.'"

In accepting this appointment, Mr. Simons declared: Multiple Sclerosis is a disease of the central nervous system usually attacking young adults between the ages of twenty and forty. The disease, in most cases, follows a slow crippling course which eventually leaves the patient completely paralyzed. The cause, cure and treatment of multiple sclerosis is medical science's most baffling mystery today. There are nearly 500,000 who are suffering from multiple sclerosis today.

The Massachusetts Multiple Sclerosis Society is spearheading the fight to conquer multiple sclerosis in two ways:

1. Research.
2. Patient service.

To date, $1,000,000 has been spent for research by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society.

In the Bay State, the Mass. Multiple Sclerosis Society finances three clinics which give free treatment to multiple sclerosis patients. These clinics are located at the Boston Dispensary, the Mass. General Hospital and in Pittsfield. The Society also supplies without charge bed lifts, wheelchairs, crutches, canes and braces to patients who need them and cannot afford to pay.

Mr. Simons hopes that all multiple sclerosis patients, their families and the general public who wish more information will contact the Mass. Multiple Sclerosis Society at 185 Devonshire street, Boston.

Cross International Study Center ever to be held in the U. S. This international group of boys and girls has taken over Hood College here from August 1-12. They are working and studying together, exchanging information about their respective countries and learning about the world-wide Red Cross movement.

Josephine, 16, was selected as a member of the U. S. delegation on the basis of her outstanding leadership abilities. Among the subjects being covered at the center are the Red Cross in peace and war, the volunteer in Red Cross and health and safety.

But it hasn't been all work and no play for the delegates. They have been taken on a tour of Washington, D. C., taken part in an aquatic show, picnic and talent and stunt nights. But the purpose of the center, says the Red Cross, is for the delegates "to see themselves as members of the Red Cross world, to provide them with a broader knowledge of the aims and programs of the Red Cross."

Guiding the activities of the center are 33 Red Cross volunteers and staff members from the U. S. and abroad. Besides the U. S., delegates come from Canada, Australia, the Bahamas, the Philippines, Ecuador, Japan, Germany, Italy, Haiti, Trinidad and Puerto Rico and Hawaii.

Rev. Merrill To Preach Sermon Sunday

"Prelude to Morning" will be the sermon theme at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, August 19, when the Rev. Boynton Merrill, D.D., of Columbus, Ohio, returns to West Newton for the Summer Union Services at the First Unitarian Church in Newton. Dr. Merrill's longest pastorate was the Second Church, West Newton, where he served from 1927-43, when he was called to the First Congregational Church in Columbus.

Chandler Gregg of Wellesley, organist at the First Parish Unitarian Church, Framingham, is guest organist for the Summer Union Services for August and Labor Day Sunday at the First Unitarian Church in Newton. The mixed quartet comprises Warren C. Freeman, choir director of the First Unitarian Society; tenor; Mrs. Enid Layton, soprano; Roberta B. Humez, contralto; and David Hilton, bass.

Dr. Boynton Merrill, who was born in Lowell, attended Mt. Hermon School, and was graduated from Dartmouth College, 1915, and from Union Theological Seminary, New York City, in 1918. He served as chaplain on the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, flagship of the Atlantic Fleet, from 1918-19 in World War I. His first pastorate was at the Second Congregational Church, Putnam, Conn., from 1919-21. While acting as associate minister at the Old South Church, Boston, from 1921-2, he did graduate work at Harvard Divinity School. Dartmouth awarded him an honorary doctor of divinity degree in 1928, followed by similar honors from Marietta College in Ohio in 1944. Dr. Merrill is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, and Sigma Chi.

During his West Newton Ministry, he was lecturer in liturgies at Andover-Newton Theological School, 1930-42, and assistant in homiletics at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, 1939-40. He was chairman of a seminar on worship for the Congregational Christian Churches. He was also chairman of the Commission on Worship, Federal Council of Church, 1945-46, and chairman of the Committee on W. V. times and Services, Congregational Christian Churches, 1940-45. From 1946-52 he was a member of the executive committee, General Council of Congregational Christian Churches. At the Seventh International Council, held at St. Andrews, Scotland, in 1953, Dr. Merrill preached the Council Sermon.

Dr. Merrill has been a trustee of Bradford Junior College, the Dana Hall Schools, the Northfield Schools, Oberlin College and Wellesley College.

During his West Newton residence, Dr. Merrill published two books, "From Confusion to Certainty" (1931), and "Arrows of Light" (1935). He is also the author of "From Whence Cometh My Help," which appeared in 1931, and co-author of "Sermons to Young People."

Dr. Merrill's New England background and record of achievement both here and for the last thirteen years in Ohio are recognized by his inclusion, since 1949, in "Who's Who in the Midwest."

Little Difference

Actually the brand of socialism called Communism is a hodge-podge of pseudo-dialecticism based upon "class conflict" which engenders a central theory of Hate — just as its spiritual opposite, Christianity, has a central theory of Love. The professed scientific theories of both Marx and Lenin are so beclouded with semantic ornamentation that no one but the "intellectual" can presume to understand what it is all about. This Marx-Lenin bunkum is all Greek to the average working class American. It has, however, become a self-flattering fetish for certain pseudo-intellectuals who have swallowed it as a super-science to appease their own pretensions, prejudices, frustrations and personal ambitions.

There are several kinds of "intellectuals" who go for Socialism.

There is the hard-fisted, power-crazed kind who parade as "socialists" to acquire a following that will give them power (like some of the late world leaders we have known).

Then there are the socialists who use the class struggle theory as a means to power in "labor" — of which we have several good examples in this country.

We have, too, certain intellectuals in education, religion and other social fields who have strangely come to despise "capitalism" and have accepted socialism as the antidote — and who have sympathy and affinity for Communism which claims to be the purest brand of socialism.

We have also the frustrated dreamer-type intellectuals who can't get a firm grip on life and develop a sort of hate-jealousy for those who do — and feel they would have a better chance under the beautiful theory of socialism.

Then there are those who get a smattering of "intellectualism" by reading some publications. Imagining they are the real thing, they swallow the socialistic theories peddled by leftish "liberal" journals. And so it goes.

A Sad Note

To many of us older ones the closing and discontinuance of the Ringling Bros., and Barnum & Bailey big tent show carries a sad note, almost being a tragedy in entertainment circles. All through our childhood days, we recall how carefully we remembered the date of the circus day every year, even marking the date of its arrival in our community on the calendar. There was no thrill that compared to getting up early on the morning of the big day and hiking to the circus grounds to get a first hand glimpse of the animals, as well as seeing the big top erected, possibly getting a job helping some of the concession stands get their equipment ready. No wonder the metropolitan press reported that misty-eyed children of all ages stood silently by as the big show folded its tent for the last time — dead of a multitude of ailments.

Passing Thoughts

Our nation has a carry-over of about a billion bushels of wheat, a billion bushels of corn, and about 12 million bales of cotton — above all present and foreseeable needs. No wonder there is a "farm problem."

This segregation and de-segregation business probably is a by-product of flames kindled by hungry politicians seeking office and a breeze fanned by the Communist Party. Come the November elections we ought to quit using the Negro for a pawn.

An excellent way to improve the flavor of catsup is to serve it with thick, juicy steak.

When three vacationers in Crescent Beach, S. C., complained to police that a swarm of bees were blocking their way to their home, Chief Howard Bailey told them: "I can't beat a bee with a black-jack. I can't shoot them, and I can't arrest them. Tell you what, if you get 'em drunk, I'll come down and see what I can do."

When Mrs. Hattie Payne testified in a Chicago court that her husband had given her 1600 beatings and almost 800 black eyes during their 16 years of married life, Judge Alan Ashcraft observed: "You would have been better off marrying a prizefighter, because you could have saved him the cost of a sparring partner."

Sentenced to a Long Beach, Calif., jail for five days after being found guilty of damaging telephone equipment, Eugene C. Bennett, a pipe-fitter, finally explained why he had cut his phone wire with a paring knife. Said he: "I got sick and tired of hearing my wife talking with her mother for an hour and a half."

Louis Vuilleumier didn't know what to do with a 32-room chateau he owned in Poitiers, France. He couldn't sell it because of the high taxes and real estate costs, and for the same reason he couldn't afford to keep it. In despair, he finally bought 130 sticks of dynamite and blew it up.

Even nimble-witted Adlai Stevenson was a bit nonplussed by the greeting he received from a woman as he entered a hotel in Burlington, Vt., last week. "I am sorry to see you looking so well, Mr. Stevenson," the lady informed him. She's obviously either a Republican or a devoted admirer of Estes Kefauver or Averell Harriman.

What Our Readers Say Is Rather Puzzling

The Editor, Newton Graphic:

Although not a Newtonite of long standing I have been following the controversial toll road question with great interest. The strange silence which has descended on City Hall in regards to the toll road approach along the B & A tracks is rather puzzling, especially in view of the fact that only a few short weeks ago Mayor Whitmore was strenuously opposing the same road using the B & A tracks through Newton. Has the Mayor changed his mind since his monumental talk with Mr. Callahan?

How the Turnpike Authority figures it can keep two tracks open for commuter service and still build the road on track level is a little hard to understand. Perhaps I have misunderstood it but I quote from Mayor Whitmore's report, issued after the talk with Mr. Callahan, August 3:

"Q—Would the road be built on track level, would it be elevated, double-decked or a combination of all through Newton?"
"A—It is intended to build it on track level."

A little further along the report says: "The road itself will require a minimum of 93 feet and additional amounts will be necessary if any of the present tracks are retained. Each track will require a minimum of 12 feet." In other words, a minimum of 117 feet is required for the road and two tracks. How is Mr. Callahan going to do this without building a double-decked elevated road?

As Gertrude Strout pointed out, in her letter to the Graphic this week, we have never seen a toll road ploughing through the center of a residential city. If an approach to the toll road is to be built through Newton it seems the logical route would have been along the Charles River.

I heartily agree with Mr. Robert S. Kretschmar, of the American Automobile Association, in asking Governor to revoke the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority's power to extend the East-West toll road extension from Weston into Boston urging instead construction of a free expressway with 90 per cent Federal aid. As he puts it: "Circumstances have so changed since last year that it is no longer in the public interest to build this necessary artery as a toll road. The State's greatest need is for a limited access expressway to serve the people who live in the suburban towns west of Boston and must commute between their homes and the city. The new Federal Highway Financing Law will provide 90 per cent of the money for construction of the western expressway if it is not built as a toll road. A free public artery will serve the needs of the residents far better than a toll road."

Since decision on the final link of the toll road has been deferred until a 3-month study by the Authority's engineers has been completed, there is still time to do something about it. If more people were objecting as strenuously as Miss Strout, perhaps some other route would be found for the toll road link.

Says Toll Road GOP Backed

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Representative George E. Rawson last week recited his opposition in 1952 to the original Turnpike Authority Act, attributed its passage to the "steam-roller" tactics of the Dever administration, and theorized that the Act would have incited a "tremendous uprising against it" if the presently contemplated road had been known at the time.

Rawson's statement conceals the fact that the real damage was done under Governor Herter's administration when, in February 1955, the Turnpike Act was amended to authorize the extension of the toll road into the City of Boston. The original Act did not contemplate its extension into Boston. In 1955 the Newton Republicans including Rawson, voted in favor of the toll road extension. With exceptional speed the Republican-controlled Senate, the House, and our Republican governor passed the amendment which gave the Turnpike Authority the right to map the present route which will cut a swath through the most populated center of the city and which threatens the life line of the community, its excellent community facilities. If Mr. Rawson sincerely believed that the original Act had delegated too broad powers to the Authority that was the time to restrict those powers. I think it is fair for us to assume that Mr. Rawson voted for the extension and incited no "tremendous uprising" against it in 1955 simply because it was sponsored by a Republican administration and, like the proverbial king "The G.O.P. can do no wrong!"

Stop Sign Badly Needed

Editor, Newton Graphic:

As a mother of two youngsters, ages 3 and 6, I urge and plead that the Newton Police Department place a "Stop Sign" at the corner of Winchester street and Columbia street, Newton Highlands. Since the first of August, we have had two accidents, one resulting with the hospitalization of one man.

Winchester street is now not just an ordinary street, but a "drag strip" where motorists disregard all existing safety laws.

By employing the use of a "Stop Sign" we will eliminate the speed demons and save lives.

The Informed Citizen

One of the friendlier aspects of the American Presidency is that a sizeable proportion of our citizens may legitimately aspire to achieving it. The constitutional requirements are few, and any native-born American, 35 or over and resident of this country for at least 14 years is free to follow the golden dream, regardless of sex, creed or color.

Although the possible range of candidate material is wide, political expediency to date has narrowed the choice to white, Protestant, family men, and the complexities of the job have tended to exclude those not thoroughly versed in the intricacies of politics. Certainly the majority of our Presidential, and Vice-Presidential nominees have risen to political eminence in the public eye before party endorsement for these exalted offices.

The individual who emerges into the Presidential arena is usually the product of a traineeship which may have begun on the county or even town level and perhaps have carried him from his State Legislature and, or Governor's mansion to the House or Senate Office Building in Washington and thence to victory at a national convention. On several occasions, candidates have been culled from the Supreme Court, the academy, and more frequently, directly from the successes of the battle-field.

Such men have generally been "scouted" for some time by prominent party leaders and their administrative skills carefully noted. Once given the nod by party powers, popular support is encouraged through various publicity media. In recent years the formation of prompt political groups has aided the candidacies of several men, beginning with the campaign of Wendell Wilkie in 1940 and blossoming into the semi-professional "Volunteers" on both sides in 1952.

His availability assured, the prospective nominee and his staff begin the often devious courtship of political leaders and state delegations. Perhaps in no other situation does sheer personal finesse count so dearly as when the delicate balancing of regional demands, intra-party factionalism and acceptance by that unpredictable judge, The People, must all be resolved finally by the strength of one personality.

Unto the very floor of the convention the bidding and cultivation of delegate's votes continues, with negotiations as complex as an international trade agreement and strategies to rival those of the football stadium. With every probable exigency covered in behalf of the avowed candidates, the possibility of a dark horse winner or even the last minute introduction of a totally new figure can never be discounted, a factor which adds the zest of suspense to every such conclave.

The recent evolution of the Vice-Presidential office has given professional and popular thinkers a new area for sober speculation. As our nation and our civilization become more involved, the responsibilities of the Executive branch have increased accordingly, and recent trends indicate that the Vice-Presidents of the future may play a weightier role in their disposition. This office in the past has frequently been occupied by men whose only virtue was that they "balanced" the ticket geographically, had antagonized no one, or who satisfied the ambitions of a factional leader hostile to the Presidential candidate. Disaffection between the Leader and his Second-in-Command has characterized several administrations, and four out of five "Presidents by Chance" between 1841 and 1901 whose predecessors died of illness or were assassinated, were dumped by their party and denied renomination at the end of their terms. Such lack of rapport within the winning party is certainly not desirable, and in our time the "teams" are selected with an eye to efficient harmony on the top echelon. Further, a more realistic approach to the "New Look" of the Vice-Presidency is being sought. A four-point program is under consideration by Congressmen and other Washington officials to make the Vice-President an "assistant" or even an "Associate President." Such a change would,

1. Give the Vice-President more staff.
2. Provide him with an official residence and adequate entertainment allowance.
3. Equip him with an airplane, more office space, and other facilities that a modern executive needs.
4. Clear up the confusion over Presidential disability.

James MacGregor Burns writing in the New York Times, October 9, 1955 had this to say, "It must be stressed again that the desirability of building up the Vice-Presidential office must be judged in terms of its impact on the Presidency. To strengthen an arm of the President who stands for some party element or party philosophy contrary to the President is something else... The Vice-Presidency is here to stay. President, and people, working together, have it in their power to make the incumbent a strong left arm for the man in the White House, and a trained and worthy successor if the office falls vacant."

This whole question is one in which the public has become keenly interested in view of Mr. Eisenhower's recent disability and the death in office of Mr. Roosevelt. It obviously behooves every voter, and assuredly every convention delegate to expend as much consideration on his party's Vice-Presidential nominee as he does on its Presidential aspirant.

Political Overtones

The South would prefer Symington or Senator Lyndon Johnson of Texas to Stevenson, but at no cost do they want Harriman, and they would rally forcefully behind Stevenson if it appears that Harriman is picking up enough strength so that he might conceivably win.

Harriman has gained strength since Truman bestowed his political blessing upon him. Of that there is no question. But he is still a very respectable distance behind Stevenson, and from all indications he will have a very difficult time closing the gap.

Senator Kennedy is one of the big figures at this conclave. A vigorous drive is being made to line up Vice Presidential votes for him. There is no question but that he will be in the thick of the contention if an open fight for second place on the Democratic ticket is allowed by the winning Presidential aspirant.

One big obstacle, however, is confronting Kennedy's supporters. It could cost him his chances of becoming Adlai Stevenson's running mate in the event that Adlai is nominated. That is that the members of the powerful farm bloc have blackballed Kennedy as unacceptable to them because he voted against flexible price support.

Ordinarily, that objection might be brushed aside. That is not the case at this convention. The Democratic leaders assembled here know that their candidate must make some inroads in the farm belt if he is to have any hope of defeating President Eisenhower next November.

Kennedy would be a tremendous asset to the Democratic ticket in such States as Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, states which have the electoral votes to swing an election.

Those, however, are not farm states, and if the Democratic chieftains from the Midwestern farming regions stand firm in their opposition to Kennedy, he's not likely to get the nomination.

At this writing the guessing is that the Democratic ticket will be Stevenson and Senator Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, although some of the leaders from the South do not look upon Humphrey with any great enthusiasm and would prefer Kennedy.

One man whom all factions would agree upon as a vice presidential prospect is Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack, the favorite son from Massachusetts.

McCormack, of course, is not on the Stevenson bandwagon and there is no possibility whatever that he would get the nod from Adlai or that he would make any bid for second place on a ticket with Stevenson.

It is within the realm of possibility, however, that McCormack might get the nod for Vice President if a deadlock occurs and Symington emerges from it as the compromise choice of the convention. That is a long shot. But it could happen. Former President Truman will be relegated to an obscure position of secondary importance in the Democratic party if Stevenson gains the nomination in the face of his support of Harriman.

There never has been any real bond of affection between Adlai and Harry. There certainly is none now.

Truman helped to make possible the nomination of Stevenson four years ago. His first choice then was the late Alben W. Barkley. But when Barkley retired from the contest after a group of powerful labor leaders served notice on him that they would not go along with him, Truman swung over to Stevenson.

The ex-President, however, was both resentful and critical of the way Stevenson conducted his campaign in 1952.

Against the advice of Truman, Stevenson located his '52 headquarters in Chicago rather than Washington.

Adlai came pretty close to conceding during the Presidential battle four years ago that there was some basis for the Republican claim that a mess existed in Washington under the Truman administration. It appeared from Stevenson's attitude and actions that he was not anxious to get too close to the so-called "mess" or to have the blame for it pinned onto him. That, quite understandably, displeased Mr. Truman who also considered that Stevenson was far too moderate in his campaign approach to the issues of the day.

Stevenson, rather reluctantly, it seemed, called upon Truman to take to the hustings late in the 1952 campaign and then evidently felt that Harry did him more harm than good.

Adlai's lieutenants declare openly that Truman's opposition is costing their man some votes, but that if he still wins the nomination despite it, he will be rid of the ex-President as a powerful influence in the Democratic party.

Truman knows that he took a calculated gamble in backing Harriman. He knows that Stevenson probably will still win and that his influence no longer is great enough to stop Adlai's drive. He knows, too, that his influence will be lessened immeasurably if Stevenson rides out the storm and emerges with the convention's top prize—the right to make another run for the Presidency.

So Truman is throwing everything he can into the fight against Adlai. He is the rallying point for the stop-Stevenson forces. He has turned what appeared to be a cut-and-dried convention into a knock-down, drag-out fight.

Stevenson and his lieutenants have made so many predictions that they will win on the first or second ballot that Adlai's strength is likely to ebb if he doesn't win it by the third.

The belief of the political pundits assembled here is that Adlai must win early if he's going to win at all and that if victory doesn't come to him by the third ballot, he'll fade out of the picture. This on-looker still feels that Stevenson will be the winner by the third ballot. However, the picture has been changing to such an extent that no forecasts are exactly safe.

It now seems unlikely that Senator Estes Kefauver can come up with second place on the Democratic ticket—unless Stevenson orders his nomination. Kefauver does not appear to have the strength to win on his own.

The impression of this writer is that Senator Humphrey is the No. 1 possibility to team with Adlai Stevenson, that Harriman for purposes of political expediency would be virtually forced to select his running mate from the South and that Symington, if nominated, would be obliged to choose a Northerner.

There are some strange aspects to the way the Massachusetts delegates have lined up in the Stevenson-Harriman fight.

Senator Kennedy and ex-Governor Dever, of course, are heading the Stevenson drive in the Bay State contingent.

Eleventh Summer Session of Liturgical School Under Way

The eleventh summer session of the Newton College School of Liturgical Music began Monday, and will continue through Friday, August 31. An added feature this year will be an evening course in choir technique to benefit men in parish choirs and priests of the Boston Archdiocese who are unable to attend daytime classes.

One of the world's leading authorities on Gregorian Chant, Dom Ludovic Baron, O.S.B., former choirmaster at the Abbey of St. Anne de Kergon in Brittany, will teach the evening class, which will meet nightly from 7:30 to 8:30. Dom Baron lectured for the first time at the Newton music school last year. The Benedictine scholar, whose three-volume work "The Expression of Gregorian Chant" is the standard work in that field, is a founder both of the Gregorian Institute of Brittany and the Scandinavian Gregorian Institute. He will also teach an afternoon class from 1:40 to 2:30.

During the evening class, Dom Baron will prepare a newly-organized group of laymen to sing a televised Mass from the Archdiocesan Television Studio on August 26. The group, known as the Pius XII Schola for Laymen, specializes in church music. It will make its first appearance at the Mass, scheduled to be carried over WNAC-TV, Channel 7.

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, who sponsored the original founding of the music school at Newton, has expressed strong approval of this training of a lay scholar.

Organists, choirmasters and choir members, including religious, seminarians and priests, from all parts of the Archdiocese and from cities including Washington, D.C., Philadelphia and New York, will attend the classes. Besides the course in choir technique the school will also offer instruction in choral conducting, history of music, Gregorian accompaniment, counterpoint, Gregorian Chant, harmony and the organ. Mother Dora Guerrieri, R.S.C.J., is director of the music school.

Others of the faculty include Father Edward W. Beuler of Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale; Thomas A. Sokol, assistant professor of music at Newton College; Mrs. F. K. Balling, associate professor of music at Newton; Mrs. Richard Kenney, instructor in piano at Newton; and Miss Margaret Ledy of the Pius X School of Liturgical Music at Manhattanville College, Purchase, N.Y.

Father Beuler, a member of the Archdiocesan Music Commission, will celebrate the televised Mass. He was a member of the first group to receive the Bachelor of Sacred Music degree at Manhattanville when it was conferred for the first time this spring through affiliation with the Pontifical Institute in Rome. Mr. Sokol will be returning to teach at the music school after a tour of Europe with the Harvard Glee Club.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH, NEWTONVILLE

The fact that mankind can turn to the divine Mind, God, for intelligence and ability will be brought out at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Mind" is the Golden Text from Psalms (147:5): "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite."

The practical value of understanding God as divine Mind will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following: (258:21): "The human capacities are enlarged and perfected in proportion as humanity gains the true conception of man and God."

Included in the Bible readings will be the following advice of Paul to the Philippians (2:5): "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus."

Seminar On Corrent Political Scene Among Courses Offered

A Seminar on The Current Political Scene, and courses in Investing, Real Estate, Accounting, Human Relations in Business and Industry, English Writing, Spanish II, Typing, Economics, Psychology, Intermediate Algebra, and Plane

Geometry are listed in the first announcement of courses in the Evening Division of Newton's public Junior College, to start September 24.

These are college-level courses, 7 to 9 p.m., Mondays or Tuesdays, at the College's new location in the renovated Clafin Grammar School building, Washington park at Walnut street, Newtonville. Classes will meet once a week during the 15 weeks of the first semester. Except for the mathematics courses, they carry two credit-hours towards the A.A. or A.S. degrees which the College awards.

In announcing the courses, Director Walter M. Taylor said the function of a junior college serving Newton, Waltham, Watertown, Wellesley, and other nearby towns was to offer whatever college-level cultural and professional courses students wanted. "As long as eighteen students enroll," he said, "the College will obtain a competent and qualified instructor in any field of interest from automation to zoology." He invited citizens, civic and social groups, business and industry to make their needs and interests known but pointed out that the Evening Division does not duplicate the vocational and avocational courses of the Adult Evening School also conducted by the Newton School Department.

More than two-thirds of the students in the Evening Division of the College are not seeking degrees. Just under half of them come from outside of Newton. Director Taylor notes an increased enrollment on the part of young high school graduates who "see that sitting in front of TV every night is getting them nowhere fast."

The College tuition fee ranges from $20 to $30 per course for all students. Further information about courses may be obtained from the Junior College office located until September 1 at 40 Elm road, Newtonville.

were issued, while this year, only 460 permits were issued. This clearly indicates a dropping off in building construction here and would also indicate that costs of city government in the future must be held within bounds if the tax rate structure is not to increase upward.

In connection with this, it is interesting to note that while home building construction has shown a tendency to decline, employment figures in manufacturing establishments here have increased the first six months of this year to 10,800 as compared with 10,300 for the same comparable period last year. Production workers here last year numbered 7,300 compared with 8,400 this year or any increase of 1100 but the average weekly earnings of this class dropped from $81.45 last year to $60.96 this year, or 49 cents per week less this year, this despite the fact that this year their average hourly earnings were $1.60 as compared with $1.54 a year ago. The drop in weekly earnings was brought about because of the weekly hour average which last year was 39.9 compared with 38.1 this year.

five years. These men must receive this training as we move along in peace time," the speaker said.

"To meet today's problems we must have a fighting Air Force and a strong Reserve capable of meeting any situation which may arise," according to Col. Tansey.

Colonel Tansey then listed the reasons why our Air Force and Guided Missiles program is strong, but called for continued attention to the need for keeping a strong program.

Albert M. Kreider, club president, presided. Douglas B. Francis, himself a reserve Army officer, introduced the speaker. Colonel Tansey is Dean of Students at Wentworth Institute and active in Winchester civic affairs.

Called on for a special introduction at the meeting was Franklin N. Flaschner, general chairman of Newton's 1957 Red Feather campaign.

Raymond C. Wass, Rotary vice-president, stated that Russell Cox of Cabot, Cabot, and Forbes would address next Monday's meeting of the club. His subject will be "Route 128 Developments."

Words of Other Voices

Perhaps no greater emphasis has been placed on the need for freedom of the press than the headlines regarding the missing funds of a state official's budget.

To the Chicago Daily News must go the accolade this time as it has in other newspapers in the past, and will go to publications in the future, as long as we maintain the freedom of the press.

As history has proved, when a nation loses that right, the citizenry become an uninformed mob, which must listen to the propaganda handed out by the powers in control. There is no attempt to tell the truth, under such conditions, only such "news" as the government decries the people shall have.

Tyranny, lawlessness, immorality and outright appropriation of public funds for private use, blossom when the free presses are silent. On the other hand, like the toadstools of human nature that they are, when the press is free they can only survive in the darkness of ignorance and die in the glaring sunshine of public light.

The Hodge case is not new in the annals of politics; nor is it the end of such mishandling of a public trust. However, the fact that it is news, shows how rarely it occurs. The reason it is the exception and not the rule, is the fact that public officials are forever watched over by a vigilant press.

Many have been the outcries against the abuses of the free press (and there have been abuses by the "yellow" journals), but the service it provides as the watchdog of public liberties and justices are much more to the benefit of its readers than any faults pounced upon by the critics.

This nation shall ever be free, as long as there are newspapers, free and uninhibited, to tell the citizenry what the conditions of government are at any time. But, should the days come when the master should shoot to death his faithful "watch-dog" the thieves of tyranny and oppression shall reign.

ROUND THE WORLD CHEESE-ORAMA

Can you imagine it... there are cheeses imported from just about every civilized country in the world in the shining dairy case at the new Stop & Shop in Newton, on Route 9 at the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center!

One customer told us that there's a traditional favorite cheese in most countries of the world, and she was delighted to find most of them all grouped together in one department. As a matter of fact, if you were to buy a different cheese each time you visited this Newton Stop & Shop, it would take you more than one hundred visits before you had sampled the great variety in this department.

If you're planning a party's cheese tray, why not start with a colorful red Edam, to be surrounded by wedges of Camembert, cubes of Baby Gouda, and slices of Gjetost, to be served with toasted crackers.

Another thing of interest in this cheese department is the new type of refrigerator dairy case. This new case seems to hold the cheese right out to you, and you don't have to make those awkward little knee bends required by ordinary cases. There is a protective blanket of cold air that protects the cheese in an uncanny way. If you move your hand over this fabulous case you'll see what we mean.

Shifting Population Looms As Growing State Problem

The shift of population in Massachusetts from larger cities to the outlying suburbs may lead to new demands for annexation of smaller communities to form a metropolitan area surrounding the once "large city center."

This problem of annexation, previously isolated to the Boston metropolitan sector, now seems more and more vital for the planning and operation of services in other districts of the state.

New Bedford, Lawrence, Haverhill, Salem, Worcester, and comparable areas may have such problems to be solved as a result of the post war exodus from the city centers.

The growth of metropolitan areas, with cooperative plans which afford services such as schools, fire and police protection, water and sewerage services for the rapidly growing towns, has been noted in other parts of the country.

Bay Staters, with New England stubborn resistance to yielding any degree of individuality, present a more difficult problem for integrating any outlying sections with a larger community.

Suburbanites Oppose Move This is due in a great degree to the fact that the suburbanite moved out to the fringe of the city to get away from big city life—and has become a part of the community he adopted and doesn't want to abandon that new found participation in a new community life.

The problem of shifting populations in this state is being carefully watched by the State Department of Commerce, the industrial and business groups which must plan their methods for servicing the community, the utility companies facing changes in consumer service and hordes of others.

Heavy industry is decentralizing here.

Where previously there was a heavy concentration of manufacturing in a specific section, and the plants attracted workers who determined to take up homes nearby their work, the manufacturing plants are now setting up business on the super highways, buying less costly rural property, making parking facilities available for workers. This too draws the city dweller into the country as a resident—and presents new problems.

So great has become the issue of migration from one community to another with the rapid expansion of the business life of the suburbs that economic problems of the municipality have become major crises for public officials as well as serious household problems for the homemaker newly established home-owning suburbanite.

Many industrial firms moving their plants from the centers of industrial life of a generation ago, now find themselves in need of telling their story to the local people so that industry and homeowners together may take advantage of the suburban growth.

Transportation Involves Problems

The new suburbanite finds his problems increased. He must provide for additional expenses for transportation to and from his employment if he remains employed in the larger center.

Often times he steps out of the class of being the operator of a family car and assumes a more prosperous role as head of a two-car family—with all its expense.

For the towns around the Massachusetts cities there have been increasing problems in the financing of public services. The suburbanite demands good drainage, adequate schools, efficient services from the police and fire departments, the water and sewer departments and all the municipal functions so popular today.

These cost considerable sums of money. Town officials have to raise it in taxes and the suburbanite has to pay the bills. He benefits to a considerable degree by the relocation of industry on the outskirts of the suburbs, because in that development there is a valuation increase without which the former city dweller could not afford rural life.

The impetus of migration in Massachusetts may be studied and studied and studied, but even the last session of Congress acted on one proposal which would make obsolete, for the present, any studies which could be completed and analyzed to define a program for action.

With the national fifty billion dollar highway program, new super highways will be laid out additional to the arteries which have been provided by the state.

Here again will be new industrial growth with the resultant development of new home sites.

With the movement of industry and residents from the larger cities in the suburban areas through the state, there are also the problems of diminishing returns for the larger communities.

There has been a revamping of commercial properties to seek continued occupancy, and shabby dwellings are being torn down and newer, more modern facilities established in their place, but current study shows that with the displacement of persons from such areas, the new properties rarely afford an equal number of dwelling units for all those disturbed by progress.

The coming year may see many, many appeals for state action to meet the issue of migration.

Long Term Outlook For Business Is Good

Despite current softening in some lines of business, the long range outlook for a continuation of the boom that started after World War II is good, say the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine. In a copy-righted article, "What I Do About Stocks Today," the editors say that America is in the midst of a long term industrial and economic revolution which will be accompanied by a gradual inflation.

Investors are told that the short term outlook for business is hazy. Every once in a while the economy gets ahead of itself and has to pause. Consumers get temporarily loaded with goods and debt, and need time to digest. Factories get expanded and modernized to the point where, temporarily at least, they can handle more than the demand.

When this happens, say the editors, there is a dip in overall activity and also in profits. A decline in stock prices is likely to precede or coincide with such an adjustment.

But investors who buy stocks for long term growth can have faith in a continuation of America's economic and industrial expansion, the editors say. The reasons for confidence are given in the July issue of the Magazine:

"Such developments as the electronic brain; carbide-tipped cutting tools, which have tremendously speeded up drilling and machining; electronics, permitting complicated and remote control of machines; new metals; new knowledge of chemistry and physics feed on themselves and multiply with the result that great segments of industry are seething with change."

"Great advances in research are leading to new and often cheaper consumer goods, new production and distribution methods. The plans of one company to buy a new labor saving, cost-reduction machine force its competitors to search for still better machines. The revolution is regional, too. The attractions to industry offered by the South and West are causing regional booms.

"At the consumer end, the various floors under income are rising and pushing a greater proportion of people into the middle-income group, where they can afford the myriads of new products and services as well as more of the old ones."

"No matter which political party is in power, the government seems committed to boisterous business when necessary by means of spending, cheapening money and cutting taxes."

"Other ingredients that will be leavening the economy over the next five or ten years will be new drugs and medical techniques, giving people longer lives."

Short Takes on TV
by Fran Corcoran
WELL-KNOWN SONG WRITER PENS THEME — Bob Allen, whose recent song hits include such favorites as "No Not Much,"
"Can You Find It In Your Heart," and "Moments to Remember" has written the theme song for WBZ-TV's "Saturday Hop" seen every Saturday at 6:00 p.m. The program co-hosted by Norm Prescott and Alan Dary, designed specifically for young moderns presents the top musical personalities of the day. Guesting in recent weeks have been Pat Boone, Steve Lawrence, Lillian Roth, Sylvia Simon, Don Cornell, the DeJohn Sisters and Sunny Gale. . . just to mention a few.
"HOME" TO CHANGE FORMAT — A new approach to the programming of NBC-WBZ-TV's HOME based on the results of a viewer survey made at the conclusion of the program's second year, will be inaugurated early in September. Two basic changes in the program's format will be made. First, service material (food, fashion, travel, entertaining, etc.) will now be scheduled on specific days of the week so that the viewer may predict that she can see fashions on Monday, for example, or food features on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Second change in the format will be in the type of general feature material which will be presented. It will be of broader interest and will tend toward "first person" journalism — stories about people both famous and unknown who have interesting stories to tell. Both these alterations in the HOME format — predictability of programming and emphasis on broader feature material — were made not only as the results of the viewer survey, but on the strength of HOME's viewer mail indicating a shift in viewer interest trends.
2000 A.D. — Sundays at 11:00 a.m., WBZ-TV transports the viewer into the year 2000. This unusual series which is co-ordinated by Professor Jonathan Karas of the University of New Hampshire underscores the great need for scientists and engineers in our country today. Each program will show what life in the future can be like based on present developments in the varied fields of science. But, in order that these predictions for 2000 A.D. may become a reality there's an absolute need now for trained scientists and engineers. Just think about it for a second. 2000 A.D. isn't so very far off!
"CIRCUS BOY" IN THE FALL — "Circus Boy" takes over the 7:30 - 8:00 p.m. spot on WBZ-TV Sundays, beginning September 23rd.
Set against the colorful background of a traveling circus at the turn of the century, it's the story of a boy who is adopted by an entire circus troupe. Starring in the title role will be 12-year old Mickey Bradlock. This series should recapture some of the old nostalgia we feel every Spring when the circus comes to town.
JAMES MICHENER GUIDE OF "ASSIGNMENT: SOUTHEAST ASIA" — James A. Michener, Pulitzer Prize winner and a noted authority on the South Pacific and Asia, will serve as American "guide" for "Assignment: Southeast Asia" which will be filmed in color. He will also write and narrate the 90 minute colorcast which will be televised sometime within the next few months. The noted author and lecturer will go "on location" to Indonesia, Malaysia, Thailand and possibly Burma, Vietnam and Cambodia. This color film will attempt to point up social, economic, political and cultural aspects of an area which is, after India, the most highly populated and one of the most important in the world.

Is Serving As Guest Organist

Chandler Gregg of Wellesley, recently returned from a trip to Europe, is serving as guest organist for the second half of the series of Summer Union Services being held at the First Unitarian Church in Newton, Washington St., West Newton, for the five Sundays in August through Labor Day Sunday in September. Eight Newton churches of five denominations are cooperating for these Summer Union Services.

Mr. Gregg flew both ways across the Atlantic on an eight-weeks' tour under the sponsorship of the USAREUR (U. S. Armed Forces in Europe) with a group of musicians sent to entertain members of the U. S. Armed Forces in Germany. Mr. Gregg was the pianist for the orchestra which traveled in Army buses to U. S. Army and Air Force bases in Western Germany, giving light musical programs.

Mr. Gregg is organist at the First Unitarian Parish Church in Framingham. He received his A.B. degree from Harvard College in 1955 and is now working for his master's degree in the Department of Music, Harvard University. Later he hopes to continue his musical studies in Europe.

Salk Vaccine for 2nd Shots Arrive

An unexpected delivery of Salk Vaccine for second anti-polio shots for children, aged six months to 15 years, arrived in Newton last Friday but too late to make another change in plans as announced last week by Dr. Henry W. Godfrey, acting director of Public Health.

Consequently plans to administer the second shots will be in accordance with the announcement issued last week at which time it was stated that the shots would be given generally to school children starting September 17, the second week of the new school term, Dr. Godfrey states.

At the same time, Dr. Godfrey announced that physicians who have cards on file in the Health Department office for private patients, who received their first inoculations of vaccine, may call for second shot supplies this week.

In announcing the decision to carry out the second polio shots starting September 17, Dr. Godfrey pointed out that a large number of families are still absent from the city, many physicians and public health nurses and Red Cross personnel are also away on vacations and that it made it inadvisable to proceed with the original plan of administering the vaccine before the opening of schools on September 10.

As soon as the second shot program for younger children is completed, plans will be completed to administer first doses of the vaccine to persons, aged 15 through 19 years.

Over 15,000 doses of the vaccine were picked up by the Newton Health Department at the State Laboratories in Jamaica Plain for the second shot program. The vaccine will be made available immediately to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital for pregnant women, Dr. Godfrey reported. The program at the hospital will be in charge of Wayne Henry, resident administrator.

Inquest Findings Likely This Week

It is expected that findings in the inquest into the death of two patients at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital on June 10, will be filed in Middlesex Superior Court possibly by the end of this week, it has been reported.

During the inquest held July 10, 16 witnesses testified at an all-day hearing before Judge Donald E. Mayberry in Newton District Court to determine whether any criminal negligence was involved in the deaths of Mrs. Marion C. duMont, 50, of 41 Kenley terrace, Brighton, and Gordon M. McMullin, 53, of 30 Oak terrace, Newton Highlands.

The inquest was held following a finding by Dr. Michael A. Luongo, acting medical examiner, that the deaths were due to the mistaken administration of sodium nitrate, a cleansing fluid, in place of a mild cathartic.

Witnesses at the inquest included Dr. Luongo, state and local police officials, and employees of the hospital, and an inspector for the State Department of Health, hospital division.

The findings of the inquest will be filed with the Clerk of the Superior Court in Cambridge.

45,891 Eligible For the Primary

A total of 45,891 will be eligible to vote in the September 18 primaries in this city as the total voting strength was increased by 3,328 during the recent registration period which ended last Friday evening. City Clerk Monte G. Basbas reported the figures following the close of registration.

Last Friday a total of 1050 names were added to the voting list. Other totals added during the night registration period last week were, Wednesday, 383; Thursday, 420. The total added to the rolls since the June 1 revision of the voting list was 3328.

There will be no more registration of new voters now until two days following the primaries, when the list will reopen until October 5, the last day for enrolling before the November 6 election.

It is anticipated that about 5,000 additional voters will be registered for the November election, thus bringing the full total to over the 50,000 mark.

On duty at the night sessions were City Clerk Basbas, Registrars Thomas F. Donnelly and Charles J. Doherty and Assistant Registrars Joan Stafford, Elizabeth Carter, Margaret Gallant, Jean Leeman, Mildred Cronin, Hazel Holmes and Elizabeth Adam.

The figures on the revised voting list as of last June 1 showed a total of 42,563 eligible voters, divided as follows: Republicans, 17,395; Democrats, 5,263; unenrolled, 19,905. For the corresponding time a year prior, June 1, 1954, the breakdown of voters was: total, 42,955; Republicans, 19,713; Democrats, 4,906; and unenrolled, 18,336.

No breakdown of party allegiance of those who have just been registered will be possible until after the November election.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Stassen's Action Raised Herter's National Stature ... Kennedy's Near Miss Gave Jitters to State GOP Leaders ...

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 23—Harold E. Stassen may not have accomplished anything else by his "dump Nixon" drive, but he certainly did enhance the standing of Governor Christian A. Herter with the Eisenhower administration.

Herter is one of the most popular figures attending this Republican national convention, Stassen unquestionably the most unpopular.

GOP leaders from across the sweep of the 48 States are in agreement that Stassen's one-man crusade to drop Nixon from the Republican national ticket in favor of Herter has done some harm to the party's cause. But they add that Herter has prevented it from creating greater havoc.

There is no question but that Governor Herter today commands far greater national stature than he did a few months ago and that he will be asked to accept a high position in the federal government next year—if President Eisenhower is reelected.

For a long time Herter had difficulty in convincing some of his admirers that he was not an undercover candidate for the Vice Presidency, despite his public utterances. He finally succeeded in bringing even his die-hard backers under control.

Chairman William F. Calla-

the main line of the Boston & Albany railroad through this city is the only route now being considered for the proposed extension of the East-West Toll Road from the West-ton terminus to Boston.
However, the purpose of the public meeting called for September 10 here will undoubtedly discuss the possibility of using an alternate route which might disturb to a lesser extent the physical layout of both business and residential areas here.

Mayor Whitmore urges all citizens who can possibly attend this meeting to do so in order that the entire matter may be fully and completely discussed with a view of determining future action by this city.

said that the horse had all the symptoms of the disease commonly known as "sleeping sickness." Two infants, one in Lincoln and the other in Brookton and several other horses also have died of the disease.
At the time of the Lincoln infant's illness, spraying operations were carried out in the swamp area around Lincoln.
The baby died around the first of July, but it wasn't until last week that a lab test revealed death was caused by sleeping sickness.
Robert L. Armstrong, superintendent of the East Middlesex Mosquito Control Project, said that premises around areas where the disease is suspected will be sprayed. This will be done by both helicopter and on land where mosquitoes breed, including swamps, dumps and wooded areas.
The West Newton dump area was sprayed last week by helicopter and weekly spraying operations will be carried out there. Mr. Armstrong believes the mosquitoes are pretty much under control now except for the house mosquito.
"Although we conduct routine checking in breeding places like catch basins and ponds, we can't control the house mosquitoes which breed in backyard water containers and similar places such as boats,"
Mr. Armstrong added.
He urged householders to check on their backyards for possible breeding places for mosquitoes, and for construction companies to check trenches and for officials to check the dump areas and discourage people from dumping articles which clog up trenches.
The East Middlesex Mosquito Control Project serves 14 communities, including this city. Each of the communities votes allocations of money to the project.
Mosquitoes actually infected with sleeping sickness have rarely been found in this locality, Mr. Armstrong said. Lab tests have shown that mosquitoes may transmit the disease, but as yet research has not screened out whether any other type of insect can carry the disease.
Surprisingly, Mr. Armstrong stated, the disease has not occurred in areas which are "terrifically" populated by mosquitoes. To date, it seems to occur in localities where mosquitoes are scarce.

Los Angeles street, by David Berkman, president of the Kiwanis Club. The award consisted of an official American League Baseball used on Newton Night at Fenway Park, and was autographed by the entire Red Sox Team. In congratulating David, Mr. Berkman stated that this award would be made annually at the close of the Day Camp.
A grateful vote of thanks was extended to G. Evan Johnson and the Newton Recreation Department for their kindness and cooperation in permitting the use of Allison Field as a camp site this summer. With the full facilities available the Newton Boys' Club was able to supply the Day Campers with a full and interesting program.
Transportation which is one of the big problems of the Day Camp was supplied by the following: Gene Brown of Nash of Newton Centre; Ford Motor Sales Co.; Milton Shapiro, Mrs.
Albert Leone, Jerry Marchant, and the American Red Cross Motor Corps.
One of the outings that the boys enjoyed most was the one held on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Richard White of Weston. Mr. White, a member of the Board of Directors of the Newton Boys' Club, extended every courtesy possible to make the boys stay at his home a very enjoyable one. Mrs.
White won the affections of the 40 boys who attended by her very genial hospitality.
Among the Mother's Club members who served at the party were Mrs. Charles Doucett, Chairman, Mrs. Amedee
Fremault, Mrs. Daniel Pini,
Mrs. Raymond Vachon.
Also present were Jerry Angino, president of the Newton Boys' Club, and William Marchant, a member of the Kiwanis Club.
Counselors who supplied the leadership at the Day Camp were John Colella, Mario Di-Bona, Anthony Proia, Paul MacDonald.
A total of 320 boy-weeks of Day Camping was supplied by the Newton Boys' Club. Funds for the operation of the camp were supplied by the Mother's Club, boys fees, and anonymous contributions. No funds were used from the regular Club budget which is supplied by the Newton Community Chest.

You gotta say "No"

... if you want to save money

"Unless thou deny thyself thou shalt not have perfect liberty," said Thomas A. Kempis, a monk of the 15th century. Quoting him, A. J. Cronin adds, "It is this capacity to discipline ourselves that is the root of all virtues, the fount of all freedom."

It goes for saving money. Unless you say "No" to a lot of things today, you'll never be able to say "Yes" to a lot of more important things tomorrow.

Unusually beautiful shore lots and custom built homes on Lake Winnepesaukee's exclusive Long Island (with connecting auto causeway to mainland).
Pine wooded and gently sloped to sandy bathing beaches facing across a sheltered lagoon towards the Ossipee Mountain Range. Public supervised bathing area within 300 yards for children. Good anchorage for boats and yachts of all sizes, and boat yard nearby.
This is probably the most attractive location on the largest lake in New England readily available to Boston and within 20 to 50 minutes of most of New Hampshire's major ski areas. Contact

TELE- VIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

You may have noticed in the ads for the new television sets that many of them have a safety glass in front of the picture tube that is easily removable for cleaning. Perhaps you've wondered if this was really important. Shouldn't the safety glass keep out dust and dirt, so that the face of the picture tube stays clean?

It does this to a certain extent, but there is nevertheless a strong magnetic attraction in the picture tube that draws dust to it. Over a period of time it will become clouded with an almost imperceptible film. You may not be aware of it, but it causes your picture to be dimmer and less sharp.

If you have a TV receiver with a removable safety glass, you're lucky. You can take it off periodically and clean it on the inside and the picture tube, too. If your set has a safety glass that's fixed in place, the only way to clean the inside of it and the face of the picture tube is to remove the entire TV chassis. That's a job for an experienced TV technician.

If you have this problem, next time you call us for service we'll take care of it for you. Our job is to do everything possible in TV service to bring you the clearest, sharpest picture your set can produce.

To Build Huge Shopping Unit

As a result of the action taken Monday night by the Board of Aldermen in changing the zone requirements near the present Chestnut Hill Shopping Center, a six million dollar project will be erected and when completed will be occupied by many well-known New York stores.

According to Mr. Carleton Richardson, vice-president of the State Street Realty, Inc., which will sponsor this development, the new shopping center will be the most fabulous in the entire country.

He stated that the project was engineered by Mr. William C. Karol, industrial broker who was responsible for not only obtaining the site but in obtaining agreement by these New York concerns to locate here. Mr. Robert Shick is president of State Street Realty, Inc., and is connected with Pray's Furniture Company, who intend to open a super furniture mart in the project.

Among some of the New York stores which will locate in this new shopping area in Chestnut Hill will be Bonwit Teller, Peck & Peck, Lane Bryant, Inc., Kresge, Saks Fifth Avenue, the renowned Valley Steak House and the First National Stores who will erect here the largest and finest super-market in the entire country, according to Mr. Richardson. Other big name stores will also locate here and the new project will make the Chestnut Hill Shopping Center one of the largest in the entire country.

All the stores will be air-conditioned and there will be a parking area large enough to accommodate comfortably over 2,000 automobiles. In addition an over-pass will be built to the present Shopping Center so that access to either of the projects will be easy and comfortable.

The action taken by the Aldermen thus will give to this city a large amount of revenue through tax assessments and the project will also be one of the largest and finest to be found throughout the United States.

Says South Side In Need of Protection

In his report to Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., for 1955, retired Chief John Corcoran has recommended the purchase of two new fire engines and the addition of four lieutenants and 14 firemen to the department. He also recommended the installation of a hose drying tower at Engine 5, Auburndale.

In his report, retired Chief Corcoran stated that he felt "it is of vital importance that the business district of Chestnut Hill and the residential districts in Oak Hill, Chestnut Hill and Newton Centre, be provided with additional ladder service."

A total of 2,180 calls were answered by the Fire Department last year, and were listed as follows:

Bell alarms, 246; telephone, 1625; verbal, 131; radio, 122; ADT, 2; department drills, 24. In addition, 499 bell alarms were received for Civil Defense tests.

A total of 526 buildings were damaged by fires, while 37 calls were answered as the result of truck or auto fires. There were 579 calls resulting from fires in brush, bog, dump or woods.

Department vehicles covered 12,744.5 miles during the year as follows: Chief, 278.1 miles; assistant chiefs, 3309.4; Engine 1, 533.8; Engine 2, 627.4; Engine 3, 1058.3; Engine 4, 1050.8; Engine 5, 646; Engine 6, 521.5; Engine 7, 669.7; Engine 8, 508.8; Engine 9, 629.2; Engine 10, 582.2; Ladder 1, 802.5; Ladder 2, 780.9; Ladder 3, 399.5; and Lighting Plant, 347.4.

Goes To Moscow For Teaching Assignment

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Lewis of Newtonville returned last Sunday from New York, where they had seen their daughter Elizabeth embark on the S.S. United States for the first part of her journey to Moscow.

Miss Lewis, on leave from Beauvoir, the elementary school of the National Cathedral Schools of Washington, D. C., is to be administrative head of the Anglo-American School in Moscow.

This school, established a few years ago by the wives of the English and American Ambassadors to the U.S.S.R., now has an enrollment of about seventy children of the diplomatic families living in Moscow, with grades from kindergarten to ninth and has eight teachers.

Miss Lewis will reside in the American Embassy. In addition to her school functions, she will assist Mrs. Bohlen, wife of the U. S. Ambassador, acting as her part-time social secretary.

ZONE CHANGE IN C. H. IS VOTED

Slow Down and Live . . . .

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Rudolph F. King has appealed to motorists and pedestrians to "participate more than ever before in the official Labor Day weekend program to save lives, prevent personal injuries, and reduce costs caused by highway accidents."

There are 75,430 additional registered vehicles and 96,633 newly licensed drivers already operating in excess of three hundred and fifty million, five hundred and seventy-seven thousand, two hundred and eighty-nine (350,577,289) miles more than a year ago, thus creating great traffic hazards. During this last long holiday of the summer season many family groups will be on our highways returning from vacation spots or enjoying a weekend of travel.

"Despite these added hazards, it is possible to have a death-free Labor Day weekend, but it will require the combined best efforts of every motorist and pedestrian. The Slow Down and Live campaign being in Massachusetts will conclude on Labor Day. I urge motorists to continue their cooperation with the more than 6,500 uniformed enforcement officers on the highways regulating and controlling traffic," added Registrar King. "May we who are responsible for your safety count on you to help us save lives this Labor Day weekend?" the registrar asks.

Take Action On Dump Nuisance

An appropriation of $7500 for the purchase of fill and another of $2425 for an extension of a waterline in an attempt to lessen the smoke and fire nuisance at the Pine street dump in West Newton, was approved by the Board of Aldermen at their meeting Monday night.

Held in the Finance Committee were the requests by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. of $45,000 for the purchase of a new 100-foot ladder truck for the Fire Department and of $1284 for the employment of three additional members of the Women's Auxiliary School Patrol of the Police Department.

Also approved by the board were appropriations of $31,500 for the reconstruction of Bridge street, from Watertown street to California street; $7500 additional for the completion of the Chapter 90 project on Washington, Park and Tremont streets, Newton, and $4125 for an extension of the water main in Prospect avenue, Newtonville, for 450 feet of eight-inch pipe.

Accepted by the board were offers for city-owned land as follows: Frank J. Waite, $1000 for Section 34, Block 40, Lot 4, on Derby street, West Newton, 5000 square feet; Kelly Realty Trust, $1350 for Section 56, Block 56, Lot 1, on Bernard street, Newton Highlands, 4500 square feet.

Refused by the Board were the following offers: Erwin W. Beal Jr., $1 in behalf of the Sgt. Daley Post, VFW, for a home for the post, and George Cashman, $963, both for Section 42, Block 9, Lot 43, on Hamilton street, Newton Lower Falls; John R. Cetrone, $1025 for Section 52, Block 46, Lot 12, on Vaughn avenue, Ward 5.

Pius XII Schola in Program of Church Music Over Television

THE PIUS XII SCHOLA FOR LAYMEN received the blessing of the Auxiliary Bishop of Boston, Most Reverend Eric F. MacKenzie, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Newton Centre, during a visit to Newton College School of Liturgical Music where the Schola prepared at an evening class to sing a televised Mass last Sunday. Shown with Bishop MacKenzie are Rev. Edward W. Beucier of Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, a member of the Archdiocesan Music Commission, who works with the Schola, and two members of the Schola, D. Joseph Sweeney of Brockton and Paul St. George of Boston.

But Reject Car Laundry In The Area

The Board of Aldermen has unanimously approved a change in zoning of 824,000 square feet of land on the west side of the Hammond Pond parkway at the northerly corner of the Worcester turnpike, from Residence "C" to Business "B".

The action taken by the Board would permit a $6,000,000 extension of the Chestnut Hill shopping center and makes possible the construction of 18 new stores in that area.

The approval to the change in zoning was made by the Board on the request of Arthur Shattuck and others for this change. The Board, however, retained in the Residence Zone, a 25-foot strip between Moody street and the new business zone, and provided that a fence and screen planting be installed by the petitioner.

At a public hearing on the matter last night, the petitioners reported that 18 new stores would be erected on the site which would total in value about $6,000,000, the largest single taxable unit in the city.

However, the Board by a vote of 11 to 7 denied the request of Reva Gluck and Bessie Kriensky for a license to erect a one-story masonry building for an auto laundry on Boylston and Florence streets in Chestnut Hill.

In reporting the vote of the Claims and Rules Committee, which opposed the permit, Chairman William R. Mattson pointed out that nearly 100 residents objected to the project at the public hearing held on July 16.

Urging approval of the request, Alderman Joseph B. Davis asserted that a city of Newton's size should have a car laundry and that the proposed site is an ideal location for such a project.

Action On Proposed Bus Route Deferred

Placement Tests at H.S. Sept. 5

The opening day for all public schools in Newton has been set for Monday, September 10, 1956.

For pupils transferring from private and parochial schools to the tenth grade of the Newton High School, placement tests will be given on Wednesday, September 5 at 8:30 a.m. Registration for these tests should be made on Tuesday, September 4, in the Guidance Office at the high school. Appointments may be made with Mr. Robert H. Mitchell, Head of Guidance Department, by telephoning LA 7-6267. A record of ninth grade work must be submitted at time of registration.

Pupils transferring to grades XI and XII from public schools outside of Newton and those transferring to grades XI and XII from private schools may register on September 4, 5, 6, or 7 in the Guidance Office. Appointments for conferences about programs of study may be made by telephoning Lasell 7-6267.

The group, known as the Pius XII Schola for Laymen, specializes in church music. It made its first appearance at the televised Mass which was celebrated at the Archdiocesan Television Studio in Boston by Reverend Edward W. Beucier of Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale, a member of the Archdiocesan Music Commission.

The men meet on the campus of Newton College of the Sacred Heart to learn Gregorian Chant. They are helping put into practice the directives of Pius X and Pius XII, issued fifty years apart. In 1906 Pius X (since canonized as Saint Pius X), in his Motu Proprio, urged a return to the traditional church music of the past. The present Pope renewed the appeal in his encyclical of Christmas last year. The movement to restore liturgical music in Action on the request of a permit to run buses on the proposed extension of the East West Toll road in this city which was filed by the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway Company, was deferred at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen Monday night. The decision was made after it was felt that no action should be taken until the route of the extension was definitely established.

The hearing on the petition was postponed by the Board at the request of Joseph Healy, a representative of the company, who stated that they did not expect a hearing to be scheduled until after the exact route of the proposed toll road extension was established. No details of operation were revealed Monday night, but it is reported that the company hopes to operate high speed express buses between Riverside and Boston, to replace or supplement the main line commuter service of the Boston & Albany Railroad. The buses would require about 15 minutes from the Weston line to Boston, it was claimed.

At another hearing Monday night, little opposition was expressed to the proposed bottling plant at the site of the Reiss Associates plastics plant at 49 Elmwood street, Newton.

Representing Royal Crown of Boston, William Murphy told the Board that the company, which bottles soft drinks for distribution to retailers, expects to have about 50 employees at the proposed plant.

The company is seeking a permit for the storage of 5000 gallons of gasoline underground; 1000 gallons of gasoline in motor vehicles; 20 cars on the roof of the building, and 30 trucks inside the building. No trucks will leave the building before 7 a.m., or after 7 p.m., Mr. Murphy stated.

Stephen J. O'Brien of 62 Elmwood street, Newton, expressed the fear that the company's trucks might constitute a traffic hazard in the area.

Other matters which came before the Aldermen Monday night were:

A permit for a garage repair shop at the rear of 1149 Washington street, West Newton. Roy J. Springer of Elm road, Burlington, said that all work and cars would be inside the proposed building and that the shop would be open between 7:30 a.m. and 5 p.m. and closed on Sundays and holidays. Harry L. Lynch, representing abutters, asserted that they had no objections if the proposed shop would be erected at the site of the present two-car garage on the property.

Opposition was expressed to only one of 13 requests for public utilities, when an abutter objected to a proposed main drain and sewer through Virginia road, Ward 4.

Rabbi Kastle Begins Sixth Year Here

Rabbi Harold D. Kastle will begin his sixth year as spiritual leader of Temple Reyim, West Newton. Rabbi Kastle is a graduate of the Jewish Theological Seminary in New York City and studied at Columbia University where he received his M.A. degree. When he came to West Newton in 1951, the congregation known then as the Newton Jewish Community Center consisted of sixty members. Through his guidance and leadership, his knowledge of religious school programs and his foresight in anticipating the spiritual and educational needs of a Jewish community, the membership has increased to over three hundred families. The members have outgrown their present building on Chestnut Street, West Newton and are now proceeding with plans for the construction of a new Temple next spring on Washington Street, Newton.

Dr. Nute On Way to Turkey Health Work

Among the passengers on the S.S. Independence when she sailed from New York August 22, were 20 persons going to Turkey under the auspices of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, an agency of the Congregational Christian Churches.

The group included Dr. and Mrs. William L. Nute, Jr., and their two young daughters. Dr. Nute, a medical missionary to Turkey, has been in this country for furlough and graduate work at the Harvard Medical School. At the invitation of the founder of the new Child Health Institute at Ankara, he is returning to Turkey to join the Institute's professional staff.

Dr. Nute was born in New York City and attended Phillips Andover Academy, Swarthmore College and Johns Hopkins University. He and his family have been living in Auburndale.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Four Places at Stake for Democrats in Coming Primary: Time Story Wrong on McCormack's Role Against Kennedy

Hard-fought campaigning for four places on the Democratic State ticket will begin all along the Massachusetts political front immediately after this coming Labor Day weekend.

The Republican nominees for Statewide offices will be able to sit back and await the returns of the Democratic clashes to learn who their November opponents will be, for their own contests were settled at their party's pre-primary convention in Worcester last June.

On the Democratic side, however, stern battles shape up for the nominations for Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, and State Treasurer, with a lesser conflict for the endorsement for Secretary of State.

Even though the GOP standard-bearers could be enjoying a leisurely vacation at the summer's end, the fact is that headed by the energetic Summer G. Whittier they already are out on the stump driving for the November election.

While the candidates with or without primary opposition have been campaigning wherever and whenever they could find an audience to listen to them, the fact is that the races will really get underway on next Tuesday, as the summer vacation season comes to its official close.

Hailer Says Trend Will Elect Democrats In November

Former City Councillor Fredrick C. Hailer, Jr., of West Roxbury expressed the conviction today that the Democratic trend this fall will be strong enough to make possible the election of a Democratic Congressman from the 10th congressional district.

He voiced the opinion that the heavy taxes and high cost of living during peacetime under the Eisenhower administration will result in a wave of resentment at the polls next November.

Hailer returned recently from the Democratic national convention at Chicago, where he was a delegate from the 10th district, supported Adlai Stevenson and was one of the leaders in the drive to give Senator John F. Kennedy the Vice Presidential nomination.

The former Councillor said there is no question in his mind that the Democratic party is far better positioned for the coming Presidential fight than it was in 1952.

Hailer himself was a victim of the Republican trend which prevailed when President Eisenhower was elected four years ago. As the Democratic nominee for Congress in '52, he polled a record-breaking vote in the 10th district but, like a number of other Democratic aspirants, Hailer was unable to overcome the Republican trend, although he polled a substantially higher percentage of the vote than did Democratic candidates at the head of the ticket.

Former Councillor Hailer lashed out vigorously this week at the Republican record and at Congressman Laurence Curtis whom he is seeking to unseat.

"At last week's Republican convention in Chicago," he said, "the plank adopted called for a reduction in federal taxes, but the fact is that when the Democrats sponsored a bill in Congress last year to lower taxes, President Eisenhower cracked the whip, and the Republican Congressmen killed the measure."

"If the Republican party in Congress really desired to cut taxes, it certainly has had a golden opportunity to do so under the Eisenhower administration," Hailer exclaimed. "It not only failed to take advantage of that opportunity, but it blocked Democratic attempts to give some relief to the taxpayers."

The final game will be played September 16 at 2:00 p.m., at Gill Stadium.

"That is just another typical example of the way Republican candidates, including the Congressman I expect to unseat, promise one thing and do just the opposite."

"If the people of the 10th congressional district want a tax reduction, as I am sure they do, the way they can get it is to elect a Democratic Congressman and to help elect a Democratic President," Hailer stated.

He appealed for support in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for Congress and for the drive for election that will follow the Sept. 18 primary.

the churches of the Boston archdiocese was furthered in 1946 when Archbishop Richard J. Cushing sponsored the founding of Newton College School of Liturgical Music, now holding its eleventh summer session. For several years the Archbishop paid the expenses of religious and priests of the archdiocese attending the music school so as to teach liturgical music in their own parishes.

Robert L. Cunningham, traffic manager with the U. S. Property and Fiscal Office in Boston, turned to the Schola to help bring better music back to his parish. A former commander of Newton Post 244, can Legion, he has served for five years as secretary of the Holy Name Choir at Our Lady's Church in Newton, where he is also chairman of publicity for the Holy Name Society and a member of the ushers' club.

He and Mrs. Cunningham have three daughters; Patricia, who studied at Regis and Francis Xavier University in Canada and who teaches in the Needham Public Schools; Mrs. Leo Doherty of Canada, who studied at Regis and Boston College; and Virginia, a senior at Our Lady's High School. The Cunninghams live at 159 Charlesbank Road, Newton. Mr. Cunningham's daytime duties include handling troop movements and shipment of equipment for the Massachusetts National Guard.

Auburndale resident Dominic A. Dougherty, one of the first members of the Schola, developed a casual interest in liturgical music as a graduate student at Niagara University—an interest which has increased as he has learned more about the liturgy. However it was his children, he says, who, by studying the chant in school, have stimulated that interest and Father Beuler brought it into action in a men's choral group at Corpus Christi Parish.

The Doughertys, who live at 31 Newell Road, have eleven children, six boys and five girls. As an industrial engineer at the American Biltrite Rubber Company in Stoughton, Mr. Dougherty is responsible for the methods of manufacturing, cost control, incentive and hourly wage payment in the manufacturing of rubber heels, soles and plastic hose.

Although the group have been meeting at Newton College for the past three years, the Schola was formally organized only this June when a constitution was drawn up which received the consent and encouragement of the Archbishop.

Members of the group have prepared to sing the Mass at an evening class in choir technique offered for the first time this summer by Newton College School of Liturgical Music. During the two-week course they have been directed by Dom Ludovic Baron, O.S.B., from the Abbey of St. Anne de Kerganon in Brittany, one of the world's leading authorities on Gregorian Chant. Dom Baron conducted the Schola when it sang the Mass on television.

The idea which led to formation of the Schola was originated three years ago by Father Beuler. Member of Holy Name Societies throughout the archdiocese were contacted and men from many cities and towns have since been coming to the Newton College campus to learn both Gregorian and modern liturgical music.

They have come from Salem, Ipswich, Gloucester and Lynn on the North Shore, from Scituate on the South Shore, from Lowell, Haverhill and North Reading in Eastern Massachusetts, the cities and towns of metropolitan and suburban Boston, and such south eastern communities as Brockton, Braintree and Randolph.

The men in the Schola explain their reasons for wanting to sing with the group in different ways, but all their explanations have one factor in common. All want to help improve the quality of church music by restoring its original purity and its liturgical role.

Rev. Grootsema Tells Of Visit In Rome

Reverend and Mrs. Frederic Grootsema, and their daughter Gail, sailed from Liverpool, England, on the RMS Nova Scotia last Saturday, and will arrive in Charlestown at the Hoosac Docks Thursday, September 6.

The Grootsemas have spent the summer on the continent and in England, touring and visiting friends. While in Rome arrangements were made by Senator Saltonstall and the American Embassy to permit a special visit under the Crypt at St. Peter's and to attend an audience with the Pope. Dr. Grootsema writes:

"We had special tickets which gave us special places and we were within six feet when he passed. All the time while we waited the Sistine Chapel Choir entertained the vast group with fine old music. At last the Swiss Guards came down the long aisle in their bright uniforms, carrying spears. A great wave of cheering broke forth which did surprise us. But a lovely old Nun nearby, from Rhode Island, said, 'Don't be surprised by anything you see today—this is a spectacle, American style.' It was—at the precise moment of 12:00, the Pope, borne aloft by his red suited guards came into the church. Again much cheering. He smiled broadly as he passed us. Then from his seat he spoke a greeting in German, French, Italian, Spanish and English. Lucille stood next to his niece who gave a real description of everything. Later, he walked into the crowd. Adults got little from him, but he seemed to have all the time in the world for children."

"After lunch we wandered about the huge church (The Colosseum can be put inside the Church!). At three we joined a party of four young American priests and some French professors (twelve in all) and were taken to see the excavations under the crypt at St. Peter's. This was a fabulous adventure. Many priests asked me how I got in! It was like a detective story in real life. What the Dead Sea Scrolls do for the Biblical student, these new excavations do

Growth of Boys' Club Is Indicated By Activity

Growth in the overall summer program of the Newton Boys' Club is indicated by the various phases of programming and activity that took place during the past summer.

In resident camping, through the generosity of the Newton Rotary Club, the Republican Clubs of Massachusetts, and Mr. Bernard Alexander, Executive Director of Boys' and Girls' Camps, Inc., 64 boy weeks of camping was supplied to members of the Newton Boys' Club. This is an increase over last year when 32 boy weeks of camping were supplied. Members of the Club were assigned to three different Camps conducted by the Boys' and Girls' Camps, Inc. They are Camp Wing and Duxbury Stockade, Duxbury, Mass., and Camp Milton, Brewster, Mass.

The staffs of each of these camps certainly must share the satisfaction of the boys in knowing that they would like to return next year. The Camps, operated under the able leadership of Mr. Bernard Alexander, Executive Director, must be commended for the efficient operation of these camps. The best testimonial to him and his staff is, that "the boys want to return next year". Newton Boys' Club is grateful also for the courtesies extended to 40 Day Campers who spent a day at Camp Wing and the Stockade. Swimming in their beautiful T-shaped swimming pool was quite a treat to the Newton boys. In an Inter-Camp baseball game, the game ended in a 4 to 4 tie, because, "it was time to go home". It was a day well spent in beautiful surroundings and friendly people.

Transportation of the boys to Boston where they boarded buses to camp was supplied by Mrs. Thomas Diggin, Mr. Warren DeForge, and Mrs. Leonard Dumais, and August E. Mascaro.

Services for physical examinations were supplied by Dr. Theodore Clark and Dr. Sidney Derow of the Newton Rotary Club, Dr. F. H. Paul, of Kiwanis Club and Dr. Peter A. Delmonico.

Another phase of the summer program is the baseball leagues for younger Club members. Four teams in the NEHI league were formed for boys under 12 years of age, and a Junior league of four teams for boys 12 to 14 years of age.

In City league competition the Club was represented in the National A and B and the Pony Leagues, sponsored by the Newton Recreation Department. A total of 90 baseball games were played by members 3 to 19 years of age during the summer months.

An "Athletic Night" will be held sometime in the Fall to present emblems and other awards to teams and players.

Assisting August E. Mascaro, Executive Director, in coaching the teams were Mr. Jerry Marchant, who coached the Pony Team; John Connerney, who coached the Senior team, and John Colella, who coached the NEHI teams.

In order to supply evening activity at the Clubhouse, the club was opened three nights a week.

Without the increased help of the Community Chest and friends, who contributed directly to the Club, this program would not have been possible.

A debt of gratitude is extended to the members of the Mother's Club who gave of their time during the past year in order to raise the needed funds to operate the Day Camp which has been in operation during the past two years. A total of 160 boys participated in the Day Camp program during the eight weeks of summer. A total of 320 boy-weeks of Day Camping was supplied to members of the Newton Boys' Club. With the exception of the Executive Directors salary, the Day Camp, thru the efforts of the Mother's Club, was self-sustaining.

Two Important Questions

"What policies of government have enabled our nation to reach its present highest level of prosperity, while artificial stimulants to the economy have been decreasing?"

"What is required henceforward in the way of national policies to perpetuate this prosperity and foster a sustainable rate of economic growth?"

The answer to the first question points the way to the answer to the second. This presents the voter with one of the most important of the issues upon which he should thoroughly inform himself between now and Election Day, November 6.

And, having informed himself on the issues, let every eligible American then VOTE. Your vote counts!

The First School Days

Back to school or to school for the first time either must be planned, just as the buying of proper clothing, lunch boxes or other incidentals, in the greatest event or adventure in the young person's life, or in the case of the mother sending her first "baby" to school for this great adventure.

Let's take the mother who knows that her five year old cannot walk to school alone. Why, it was only yesterday that the child was in a stroller—true—but before that the child was in a crib, and before that a helpless infant. However, let's look back to the first step, the first word, and from that time note every step forward the child has taken, and each contributed to the self reliance of the child. How do we continue to build this reliance? Simple. Just as we held the baby's hand for the first step, we now start on the next steps unattended.

Let's start on the morning school opens at the kindergarten. If Mommy has been in the habit of holding Baby's hand while walking, do so the first day. On the second day, walk side by side, no hands. If the child requests Mommy to hold her hand, Mother could suggest the child hold his or her own hands, and this at first would give the young one a feeling of responsibility. Of course before we start out at all, the youngster should be taught how to cross a street, preferably at a corner. How to cross? Of course we look both ways, but it should be accented by Mommy that we look to see the automobiles, and if we see one we wait. Too many youngsters move their little heads and roll their little eyes and proceed to walk in front of a moving car, yet the youngster has complied. Explain every move and the reasons or the WHY.

After walking the baby to school each day for three or four days, or even the first week, build up the reward of walking Mother to school with the Baby now explaining to Mother what is being done. Once this is done, and the baby has done well, it now becomes a child with a certain amount of self reliance, and a compliment would be in order. We must realize no one is too young to appreciate deserved praise, and now we come to the great divide—our young person now walks to school alone. Mother, of course, can and should follow at a distance and observe. Spy if you wish. It will add to mother's peace of mind if our young person performs satisfactorily. There is another feature to keep in mind. Time the distance to avoid dallying. A child that dallies is the youngster who forgets the mission—namely go to school or go home. Each of these trips should be on a reasonable but firm schedule.

Over-protection is a hurt rather than a help. There comes a time when it must cease for many reasons. Thereupon the young person must be trained to respect any and all streets—none are safe—none are dangerous.

Crosswalks and why. Corners and why.

Driveways (small streets) (backing cars).

Police Officer and his duties.

School Patrols.

Pedestrian cross lights.

Auto's go lights.

Sidewalks—who uses them and why.

School Bus (conduct on and while waiting).

One other suggestion: Mother should check with teacher to find out how and what Safety Education is taught in class and how she may complement this teaching.

Political Overtones

This is how the major fights shape up as the office-seekers prepare for their hectic two-week rush to primary day.

Former State Treasurer Foster Furcolo of Longmeadow and Thomas H. Buckley of Abington, one-time State Auditor and former chairman of the State Commission on Administration and Finance, are the opponents for the Democratic nomination for Governor.

Furcolo is the favorite and a fairly heavy one. He carries the endorsement of the Democratic pre-primary convention. He is being backed by most of the top Democratic leaders. He is better organized and has more campaign funds than Buckley.

But Buckley's supporters think the Abington man may provide a spectacular surprise and upset when the primary returns are counted two weeks from next Tuesday night. They point out that he has a great vote-getting name and that he may prove much stronger than is generally expected.

Probably the most exciting primary race will be that between Boston City Council President Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack, and Representative Joseph D. Ward of Fitchburg for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

Ward won the endorsement of the Worcester convention after a three-man struggle in which Executive Councillor Endicott (Chub) Peabody of Cambridge also was a combatant.

McCormack appeared to be the front-runner in that contest until he lost some of his strength as a result of an attempt to persuade him to accept the endorsement for Lieutenant Governor. After two ballots he withdrew from the fight, leaving the field to Ward and Peabody and making it plain that he intended to carry his fight to the Democratic voters in the primary.

Political observers express the opinion that McCormack is leading Ward as the two move toward the home stretch of their race. McCormack is receiving powerful help from friends of his famous uncle, Congressman McCormack.

He has worked at a higher tempo than any candidate in either party, with the possible exception of Whittier, and his campaign is being ably managed by James F. Kelley who directed Mayor Hynes' drive in 1949 when Hynes confounded the political world by defeating James M. Curley, then at the height of his power.

Ward has the backing of a number of Democratic legislators who serve with him in the House of Representatives, is an excellent speaker, has a pleasing personality and is not a candidate who can be under-estimated.

One of the factors in McCormack's favor is that the bulk of the Democratic vote will be cast in Greater Boston, with between 35 and 40 percent of it in Boston. McCormack's greatest strength will be in the Hub and neighboring communities, while Ward, who is from Fitchburg, will be strongest in central Massachusetts.

As this is written, it is still uncertain whether there will be three or four candidates in the battle for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor. Joseph P. McDonough of Quincy was knocked off the ballot by the State Ballot Law Commission, but he is making a legal fight in Superior Court to get back on it.

The other contenders in that contest are Governor's Councillor George A. Wells of Worcester, ex-Representative James A. Burke of Hyde Park, the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor two years ago; and ex-Representative Robert F. Murphy, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate against Governor Herter in 1954.

Murphy won the endorsement of the Democratic pre-primary convention after about as mixed-up a situation as could possibly have developed. Burke is an extremely active and energetic campaigner. Wells is very popular in central and west-

To Better Serve You...

Tomorrow, the editorial and advertising office of The Graphic will be moved from their present location in Newtonville to the home office and plant of Transcript Publications in Dedham.

The Graphic has been contemplating such a move for some time in order to bring about more efficient, unified and complete newspaper facilities for the readers of The Newton Graphic.

With this action completed, greater editorial and advertising advantages will benefit Newton and its citizens. Under this plan a more comprehensive editorial staff will be able to process a larger amount of live news copy more speedily as well as give more complete and better news coverage.

The same advantage will accrue for Newton merchants and business establishments. An enlarged advertising staff can better serve each account in layouts, promotion and specialized planning. This, coupled with faster and more efficient service, will better serve each advertiser.

In the Classified Advertising Department of The Newton Graphic, a much faster and efficient service will be offered.

Instead of two young women taking Classified Advertising over the telephone, under this new arrangement, a battery of competent, experienced, courteous and efficient young women will now be able to process your advertisements with greater dispatch over 10 telephone lines devoted exclusively to Classified Advertising, thus assuring advertisers of no delays in placing their Want Ads in The Graphic.

And, of course, The Graphic accepts Want Ads over the telephone. Simply dial DEDHAM 3-4000 and a Want Ad taker will help you. You may charge it if you wish—your credit is good.

For your convenience, classified ads and classified payments may be left at any of the sub-stations listed elsewhere in this week's issue; news

ern Massachusetts and would be a real asset to the Democratic ticket in the Worcester area.

Former State Civil Service Commissioner Clement A. Riley of Norwood and State Treasurer John F. Kennedy are the principal contenders for the Democratic nomination for Treasurer.

Democratic leaders rallied behind Riley at the pre-primary convention in Worcester and administered a crushing defeat to Kennedy. The latter, however, is making a tremendous fight to hold his office in the face of the opposition confronting him.

Two years ago, Riley also gained the nod of the convention but that was defeated by Kennedy in the primary, with the latter benefiting greatly from the popularity of Senator John F. Kennedy. This time Treasurer Kennedy will be handicapped by the presence of a second Kennedy in the field.

Secretary of State Edward J. Cronin is being opposed by Robert E. Dinsmore of Charlestown, but there has been no indication yet that Cronin is going to experience any real trouble winning re-election.

State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley is unopposed in the primary.

That is the Democratic picture as the candidates are tuning up their campaigning organizations preliminary to rolling them into high gear on next Tuesday, and there should be no lack of political excitement in the succeeding two weeks.

McCormack Did His Best to Help Kennedy

Time Magazine has aroused the wrath of Democratic politicians by an inaccurate article which implied that Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack helped to snatch victory from Senator John F. Kennedy when it was almost within his grasp during the fight for the Democratic Vice Presidential nomination.

The magazine declared that when Kennedy was only a few votes away from the number needed to win the nomination, McCormack ran to the front of the platform at the Chicago convention and told Speaker Sam Rayburn to recognize the Missouri delegation.

Rayburn did so, Missouri shifted to Estes Kefauver, starting the big swing to the Tennessee Senator, and thus McCormack paid off an old score to Kennedy in retaliation for the latter's action in wresting away control of the Democratic State Committee last May, according to Time.

What really happened was that McCormack, after huddling with the leaders in the Kentucky delegation and persuading them to shift to Kennedy, hustled to the front of the platform and shouted to Rayburn to recognize Kentucky.

Rayburn did recognize Kentucky items may also be left at these stations.

The deadline for classified ads is Wednesday noon. The deadline for news items is Tuesday noon.

The Graphic will function, along with the five other great contemporary weekly newspapers in Boston's Blue Chip Suburbs from this central headquarters in neighboring Dedham. Thus, each paper will benefit from the combined editorial and advertising experience of trained newspaper men and women.

The advantages of this move are manifold. This decision is in keeping with a practice carried out by many other progressive newspaper publishing concerns throughout the country, and the completion of the project was made only after careful study and analysis proved that it was the logical and efficient step to take.

Thus, for the first time, the complete operation of The Graphic will be under one roof.

In addition to the editorial, display advertising, the classified advertising departments, the circulation, accounting and mechanical departments will all be together for greater efficiency and service.

Beginning Tuesday, September 4, telephone calls should be made to The Graphic at DEDHAM 3-4000 with the following extensions available for your several needs: Editorial, extension 33; Display Advertising, extension 18; Accounting, extension 26, and Circulation, extension 5. When phoning in your Classified Ads, simply ask the operator for Adtaker.

The Newton Graphic, established in 1872, has served the Garden City for 84 years and will continue to serve the needs of our citizens and the civic affairs of the city in the future in the same capable and highly efficient manner as it has done in the past. It will strive to improve its already well-established reputation and the management will do everything possible to make the citizens of this fine community proud of The Newton Graphic. This we pledge.

which gave its bloc of votes to Kennedy and helped to touch off the upsurge that almost resulted in the nomination of the Massachusetts Senator for a place on the Democratic ticket. McCormack did not ask Rayburn to recognize Missouri, although the fact is that a fairly close friendship exists between Kennedy and Senator Stuart Symington, and at the time many onlookers thought Missouri was going to throw its support to Kennedy. Instead, it went to Kefauver.

McCormack and Rayburn actually worked pretty closely together to try to bring about Kennedy's nomination, and it was McCormack who enlisted Rayburn in Kennedy's cause.

To understand the situation, it must be realized that McCormack is Rayburn's first lieutenant on Washington's Capitol Hill. The two map and carry out Democratic strategy and policy in the national House of Representatives. They have been the closest of friends back through the years.

At the urging of McCormack, Rayburn swung the big 56-vote Texas delegation to Kennedy on the second Vice Presidential ballot. That was not an easy stunt. In order to do it, Rayburn appeared before the Lone State contingent and made a personal appeal to them. He did that for McCormack.

Except for McCormack, Kennedy would not have received the unanimous vote of his own Massachusetts delegation. Several members of the contingent, who are still bitter over the State Committee fight last spring, had no intention of voting for Kennedy when they left for Chicago.

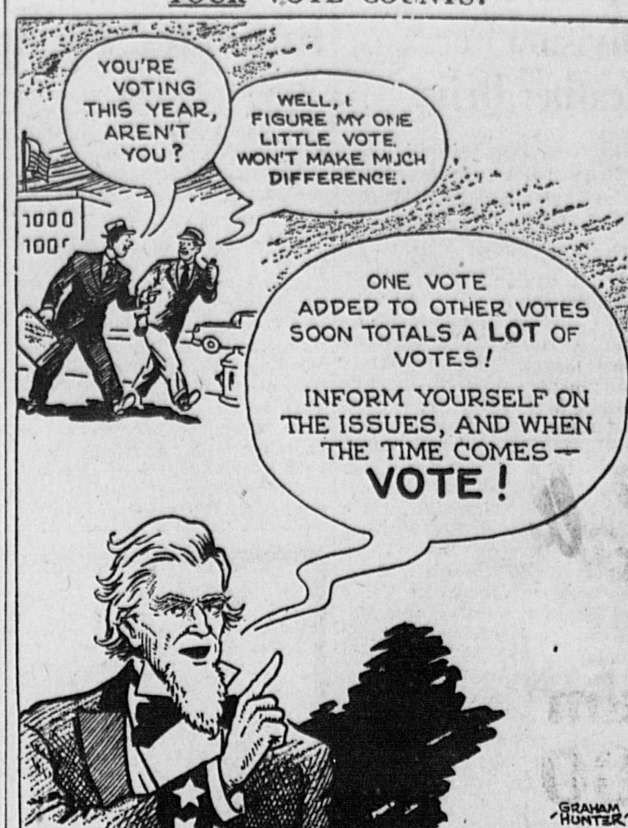

McCormack, however, took them aside and told them strongly and sternly that he wanted a solid front for Kennedy and that he would allow no defections on the part of his friends and supporters. And that was why Kennedy drew a solid 40 votes from his home State.

The Majority Leader did that despite the fact that several of the Stevenson supporters in the Massachusetts contingent had served notice that they would not stand with him for ever, one ballot as a favorite son candidate for the Presidency.

An old pro in politics, McCormack withdrew himself as a Presidential candidate before the balloting started, made a second speech for Kennedy and then worked vigorously for the junior Massachusetts Senator in the Southern delegations.

After all that, it was rather ironic to have a national news magazine, whose reporter apparently had trouble distinguishing between Kentucky and Missouri, inform its readers that McCormack evened matters with Kennedy.

District Playgrounds Bring Season To Successful Close With Field Day Events

Under the auspices of the Recreation Department, C. Evans Johnson, commissioner, the annual Field Days of District I were held last week. These playgrounds include: Boyd Park, Cold Spring, High School, Horace Mann, Stearns School, and Victory Field, under the supervision of Mrs. Ragna Hovgaard.

These Field Days culminate an intensive eight-week successful, summer program. The playground activities varied in different parts of the city, but in general included: league baseball games for both midget and junior boys; a bicycle safety program; a city-wide tennis tournament for both boys and girls; paddle tennis; table games; trips to a Red Sox game; science and art museums; and nearby beaches. Another important feature of the summer season was an extensive handicraft program which included boys and girls working in such media as craft strip, wood, cloth, metal, leather, and raffia. Each to the joy of parents, the Field Day exhibited many hundreds of colorful projects, which the children had completed during their active season. Supervising the craft programs were, Miss Gladys Forbush, Miss Marguerite Donnelly and Mr. Robert Jackson.

An example of the expansion of the summer recreation programs in the city, is the new adventure of organized play at the high school field; organization of both midget and junior baseball teams there, and being host to other teams in Newton. Junior Baseball and eleven teams of Girls' Softball held their tournaments at the high school field.

After three days elimination, the Girl's Softball Team of the Carr School playground, were announced the City Champions. A highlight from the Cold Spring playground was Junior Girls' Tennis Champion, Linda Warner.

One of the goals of the boys and girls during the summer season, is to qualify for the coveted achievement award,

FOLLOW THESE RULES FOR SAFE DRIVING

- Be doubly careful near schools or where children play. Children don't realize the danger and may take chances. That's why you, the driver, must take extra care.
- Slow down. Speed is dangerous at any time—doubly dangerous when visibility is cut by rain, fog, or darkness.
- Keep lights and windshield wipers in good condition during rainy or snowy weather. You have to see danger to avoid it.
- Keep your car in top mechanical condition. Use chains when roads are slippery.
- Obey traffic laws. Know the traffic laws wherever you travel and don't break them.
- If you drive, don't drink—if you drink, don't drive. Remember, death takes no holiday.
- Be a courteous driver. Yield right-of-way, even when it should be yours. It's better to stay alive than to be dead right.

But some day it may not come so "easy"

For a lot of people, money comes easily these days. That's partly because the nation is still spending billions for defense—which puts a lot of dough in circulation.

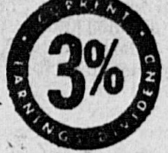

Anybody's earnings may be wonderful today and lousy tomorrow. You never know. Circumstances may change. Health may change.

Aristotle said 340 B. C., "Money is a guarantee we may have what we want in the future. Though we need nothing at the moment, it insures the possibility of satisfying a new desire when it arises."

I say save. I try to save. I keep money in Watertown Federal. How 'bout you?

- CHOOSING A GOVERNOR -

The League of Women Voters invites your comments or questions. Please call Mrs. Leo Gold Beckwith, LA 7-3807 or Mrs. Warren Rabb, LA 7-3816.

Because a certain royal George "did it," or perhaps "overdid it," concerning such realities as taxes and individual freedoms long ago, the very notion of "Governor" has special meaning to us, the occupants of one of the original thirteen colonies, Massachusetts. Today, a governor of a state or commonwealth may be defined as the agents through whom the services and facilities of his province are administered and regulated for the benefit of its citizens.

Prior to 1691, governors of this state were chosen by the stockholders in the Massachusetts Bay Company for a one-year term. Until the outbreak of war with England, the Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and Secretary were appointed by the King, and were responsible to him. During this same period, the freeholders, or property owners elected the House of Representatives, which in turn chose the 28 members of the Council or Upper House—all subject to the Governor's approval and veto of His Britannic Majesty.

With the end of English control after the Revolution, a provincial assembly was created in Massachusetts. On the advice of the Congress at Philadelphia, the Council was given both legislative and executive powers, and chose a President. This was the government of the Commonwealth until 1780, when our own constitution was written and adopted.

Written into this constitution were restrictions and curbs on the Governor. A one-year term and a council to ratify almost all the Governor's actions reflected the distrust of the state's chief executive who had once been the King's deputy.

Not until the twentieth century were significant changes made in the gubernatorial branch of Massachusetts. Consistent with the times, these changes moved toward greater power and responsibility to increase efficiency in the executive branch of our state government. Through the years, qualifying restrictions on the officeholder were removed, and today a seven-year residence in the state immediately preceding election is the sole prerequisite.

Elected by a plurality vote for a two year term, the governor of Massachusetts is paid $20,000 annually. However, unlike some state governors, he is not furnished with an executive mansion. If for any reason, there is a vacancy in the office of Governor, a constitutional amendment of 1918 sets the line of succession as follows: Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Attorney-General, Treasurer, and Auditor.

Together with the governments of Maine and New Hampshire, Massachusetts government has a unique group—the Governor's Council. This body derives from the Board of Assistants to the early mistrusted colonial governors. Frames of the first constitution set it up as a Council with broad ratifying powers, separated from the Legislature, but chosen by it. The method of selection was changed to election by the voters in 1855.

The Governor serves as President of the Council, although a major share of his action still has to be approved by the Council, which is composed of the Lieutenant-Governor and eight councillors elected from eight districts of the state. Members of the Executive Council serve for two-year terms, concurrent with the term of the governor, at an annual salary of $3,000.

In view of the many safeguards for the public welfare, what may the Governor of Massachusetts actually do? He has the power to veto legislation. A two-thirds majority of the General Court is needed to override a gubernatorial veto. The Governor is responsible for the management of the executive budget, with the right and duty to present the legislature with an overall picture of state fiscal needs and sources of revenue. An integral part of this last is power to veto or reduce any item of the budget as passed by the legislature. This is an extremely crucial power and is known as the "item veto". The governor (like every other citizen of Massachusetts) may initiate bills, which, with his authority behind them, may gain special attention from the Legislature and public. As of old, he is commander of the state militia.

With consent of the Executive Council, the Governor may call or adjourn special sessions of the General Court; issue pardons, except to those under impeachment; appoint judges; or, with majority vote of both branches of the Legislature, remove them. Council approval is also required for all monies paid out of the treasury by the Governor, including purchases of bonds and securities, and for all contracts by various departments.

Further limitations on the Governor's power come from independent and quasi-independent departments in the executive branch of the legislative veto power. Since, the Secretary of State, Treasurer, Auditor and Attorney-General are elected officials, their potential for disagreement with the Governor's philosophy is strong, particularly if they are of the opposition party. A high degree of diplomatic skill must often combine with administrative acumen to see the governor through his term.

Although there are only 26 agencies serving directly under the Governor and the Governor's Council, there are 76 agencies within these departments, not under their control, but vital to state administration. Most of their personnel is appointed by the governor (except for those jobs covered by Civil Service). The general laws provide the Governor with the necessary staff to expedite his responsibilities and handle routine matters, but such persons cannot act as liaison between the Governor and his departments.

Obviously, keeping track of such a huge operation is most difficult. While some Governors have required monthly departmental reports and/or meetings, others have appointed "experts", and left them to do the job. In addition, many demands of public and ceremonial nature make inroads on the executive time, and during the legislative session, which seems to be growing longer with the years, much of his attention is given to legislative matters.

While all the functions of the Governor may not be clearly defined, it might be said that he is the person most responsible in the public mind for the national prestige of the state, its general prosperity and future progress. Governors frequently have their special areas of interest, such as roads, schools, public housing, hospitals, and so on, ad infinitum. Along with our Congressmen in Washington, he may be a special pleader for the interests of the State, and he must keep alert to the diversities of need and opinions of his constituents.

Under the pressures of the twentieth century, there is often need for quick and sometimes critical decisions. The governor, therefore, must know something of law, science, education, economics, agriculture and the world beyond his immediate jurisdiction. His every move is under the constant probe of the press and TV camera. He must be available to all comers. Since he is, indeed, such an exposed figure, with his every move and attitude widely publicized, he must represent the highest type of public servant, combining non-sentimental idealism with knowledgeable practicality for a state and nation which runs on both dreams and wheels.

In short, he must be a most uncommon man.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST

Man's real status as a child of God — possessing unlimited freedom and happiness — will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Man" will include the following from Galatians (3:26, 29): "For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. . . And if ye be Christ's, then are ye Abraham's seed, and heirs according to the promise."

Among the passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following (227:24-26): "Citizens of the world, accept the glorious liberty of the children of God, and be free! This is your divine right."

The Golden Text is from 1 John (3:1): "Behold, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that we should be called the sons of God."

Opening of New Bank Branch Is Announced

Archibald Dresser, President of the Warren Institution For Savings, Boston, announces that the Bank's enlarged quarters at the branch office located right in South Station, are now open.

More tellers' windows and additional personnel will enable the Bank's customers to receive faster and more efficient service at the office conveniently located at Track One in the station's concourse.

Since the branch office opened in August, 1953, the number of depositors have steadily increased which necessitated the expansion program. The larger quarters include more than double the original space with more facilities available for the Bank's many depositors and mortgagors, and also for those using the Bank's other services.

The Manager of the South Station branch office is Percy S. Duckworth.

Present assets of the Warren Institution For Savings exceed $60,000,000. The main office of this 127 year-old Mutual Savings Bank is located at 3 Park Street, Boston.

Regular sessions at Warren Junior High School begin Monday, September 10. Seventh-grade pupils should be in the rooms assigned them by 8:20 that morning and will be dismissed at noon. Eighth and ninth grade boys and girls are to report at 1:00 p.m.

Attend Clam Bake at Fairhaven

More than 350 employees of the Garnewell Company, 1238 Chestnut st., Newton Upper Falls, and their guests attended a clam bake at Fort Phoenix Beach, Fairhaven, during the company's annual outing Saturday.
